The background of the cover is a dark, moody photograph of several lit candles. The candles are of various heights and are lit, with their flames glowing brightly against the dark background. The light from the candles creates a warm, yellowish glow. The candles are arranged in a way that some are in the foreground and others are in the background, creating a sense of depth.

VICTIMLINE Evanthe Schurink,1993 This report is an attempt to evaluate whether VICTIMLINE a support service for victims of crimes other than rape and child abuse which operates in the Pretoria area had achieved its stated objectives The researcher has attempted to identify VICTIMLINE s weaknesses and strengths the problems it experienced and the services it delivered and to present some guidelines for the betterment of the service VICTIMLINE was developed in three phases namely the analysis development and implementation and evaluation phases Each of these phases is evaluated in the report The researcher found that the service was underutilized particularly in the initial stages of the implementation of VICTIMLINE However this underutilization did not result from there being no need for such a service but rather from the fact that victims were unaware of this source of help for their problems The researcher concludes that even though the envisaged low cost quality service to large numbers of crime victims has not yet been fully realized the structural and managerial changes have led to a more streamlined service which is set to provide an affordable and accountable service to all victims of crime Recommendations relating to the future operation of VICTIMLINE are made such as the expansion of the service to a national level and changes to the hours in which VICTIMLINE operates

It's about Time James Austin,John Irwin,2001 IT S ABOUT TIME provides a compelling argument based on extensive research illustrating how the U S attempts to lower crime by using our correctional system as the primary solution The book includes personal accounts from prisoners to illustrate the brutal aspects of prison life and the intent of the U S to create a prison industrial complex This book often exposes students for the first time to varying points of view of the corrections system The authors one of whom served 10 years in prison and is now a noted criminologist in the field present the material in a powerful but compassionate manner The book s strong research base and accessible style make it a popular choice for a wide variety of courses
