Fathering Across Diversity and Adversity: International

Perspectives and Policy Interventions Andrea Doucet, Elihu Katz, Paddy Scannell, Rosalind Edwards, Frank F.

Furstenberg, 2009-07-15 Over the past few decades scholarly and policy interest in fatherhood and fathering has burgeoned in large part because of profound social changes in women's and men's lives in the last half of the twentieth century. However, this research has remained largely national in focus with little cross-cultural dissemination of knowledge about fathering practices and supportive or constraining social policies. This insightful volume presents a transatlantic perspective on fatherhood and fathering comparatively across nation states as well as in individual countries including the United States, Canada, United Kingdom, and Norway. Exploring the diversity of fatherhood, it encompasses differences across social class, race, and ethnicity, age, and life course, and varied household formations. The articles examine young fathers, separated and divorced fathers, fathers from minority ethnic and immigrant groups, working-class fathers, new fathers, gay fathers, and fathers of children with special needs. Readers can gauge the different epochs of fathering over time and explore the tension that fathers may experience between being good financial providers and actively caring for their children. Authored by leading figures in fathering research from North America, Europe, and Scandinavia, the multilayered and intriguing articles in this volume of The ANNALS point toward the need for sustainable policy frameworks that enable fathers to be involved in their children's lives in ways that do not include biased assumptions about the expression of that involvement. Crisis

Communication and the Public Health Matthew Wayne Seeger, Timothy Lester Sellnow, Robert R. Ulmer, 2008 Recent developments have created the need for health communication to expand its parameters into the field of crisis communication. This book spans the fields of crisis communication, health communication, and public health by taking a broad-based approach to the issue of crisis communication and the public health. There is a tangible and immediate need to address these issues, and this is the first text specifically to do so. Children and Media in Times of Conflict and War Dafna

Lemish, Maya Götz, 2007 This collection explores the role the media have on children's lives at times of conflict and war. Illegible chapters offer for the first time a unique and illegible picture of the most current academic work in illegible area. The studies approach the topic from illegible angles: children's reception, meaning-making, illegible fright reactions to war-related news coverage, illegible perspectives of their responsibilities for children at a time of war, and approaching the illegible of presenting complex new issues to children. Illegible finally various ways of empowering children through the use of media and with the aid of media education. FYI Michael M. Lombardo, Robert W.
