Crisis At Adolescence Object Relations Therapy:

Crisis at Adolescence Sally Box,1994 There is the danger of severe fragmentation but at the same time a chance to reintegrate the unmanageable aspects rather than deal with them via projection and acting out However the only way this can happen is if those split off feelings and functions can be contained and integrated at a feeling level as well as at a verbal level , Cruelty, Violence, and Murder Arthur Hyatt-Williams,1998 Convicted murderers their death sentences commuted to life in prison when England abolished the death penalty are some of the subjects of this psychological study of what makes people kill Psychiatrist Arthur Hyatt Williams worked for many years in long term psychotherapy with these murderers and others who tried to kill or were troubled by thoughts of killing The result an investigation into the depths of the criminal mind and the line that separates those who kill from those who only think about killing or those who only injure themselves Love and Hate in the Analytic Setting Glen O. Gabbard,2000-04-01 Passionate feelings of love and hate are stirred in psychotherapy Paradoxically these passions may either undermine the therapist catastrophically or serve as the crucible in which profound understanding is forged Transferences and countertransferences of love and hate occur on a spectrum that includes unobjectionable negative and positive feelings relatively benign forms of love and hate and more malignant intractable versions of love and hate that present formidable challenges to the therapist Each of these variations is explored in different chapters of this book Gender configurations gender fluidity adolescent transferences the link between love and lust and passive forms of hating are among the topics discussed Most of all the author noted psychoanalyst Glen Gabbard depicts what it is like to be in the eye of the hurricane when passions are aroused He provides a practical yet theoretically sophisticated guide to the management of love and hate as they are experienced by both patient and therapist

Object Relations Therapy of Physical and Sexual Trauma Jill Savege Scharff,David E. Scharff,1994 Rising above the polemics surrounding sexual and physical abuse David and Jill Savege Scharff bring a relational perspective to the integration of psychoanalytic and trauma theories in order to understand the effects of overwhelming physical or psychological trauma including sexual abuse injury and birth defect The Scharffs draw from their object relations therapy with individuals families and couples recovering from trauma an abundance of relevant clinical examples described in their characteristically personal and vivid style Their treatment approach influenced by Fairbairn Klein and Winnicott is respectful of the patient s experience They advise avoiding premature interpretations that impose their own reality on patients because this traumatizes them just as their abuser did In order to work well with these traumatized people the clinician must be able to tolerate ambiguity and sustain longterm therapy for it takes the patience of waiting and wondering to recover deeply repressed memories explore them thoroughly and evaluate their meaning and importance for the patient The Scharffs demonstration of clinical processes helps therapists contain their own countertransference to trauma so as to be fully present with their clients and consistently able to confront abuse patterns in society The object relations approach not only deals with trauma's impact on the individual but views it in its cultural and interpersonal context as well. Society alternately emphasizes and ignores trauma so that an encapsulated traumatic experience festers until the next eruption just as dissociative defenses segmentally protect and exaggerate traumatic experience in the individual case. The Scharffs review Kramer's Mahlerian approach. McDougall's insights into the silence of the psyche and the words of the soma and Anzieu's elaboration of the body ego. They resuscitate Freud's seduction hypothesis and the traumatic basis of the repetition compulsion. They compare and contrast the concepts of repression and dissociation. Moving from there to develop an object relations perspective they draw on Winnicott's concepts of the psychosomatic partnership, the environmental and object mothers and the potential space. Klein's contributions of the infusion of aggression and death anxiety into developmentally critical relationships. Fairbairn's view of the endopsychic situation with reference to his early unpublished papers on childhood sexual abuse that presage his later theory building and their own studies of couple and family dynamics. Classical psychoanalysis introduced theories of trauma but later devoted itself to the study of infantile trauma that caused conflict based neurosis rather than actual neurosis. Modern trauma theory on dissociative phenomena and post traumatic stress disorder studied after combat, the Holocaust and natural disasters comes from the fields of veteran and child developmental psychiatry, hypnotism and multiple personality research. Trauma theory and psychoanalysis have been on separate tracks. Object relations theory offers a bridge between individual and societal experiences of trauma and prepares the way for a less dissociated response to trauma issues among the mental health professions and their psychotherapy literature.

Time-Limited Adolescent Psychodynamic Psychotherapy Stephen Briggs, 2019-04-30. Time Limited Adolescent Psychodynamic Psychotherapy: A Developmentally Focussed Psychotherapy for Young People will be an indispensable clinician's guide to the practice of Time Limited Adolescent Psychodynamic Psychotherapy TAPP providing comprehensive instruction on the theory and delivery of this distinctive model of psychotherapy. TAPP is a manualised brief psychodynamic psychotherapy of 20 sessions for young people between approximately 14 and 25 years combining psychodynamic psychotherapy with psychosocial understanding of adolescent difficulties. It places emphasis on the therapeutic engagement of young people and works with a developmental focus to effect change and growth. Divided into two parts: Conceptual Framework and Practice, this book combines digestible scholarly analysis with case studies to effect a one stop practitioner's guide to TAPP. Time Limited Adolescent Psychodynamic Psychotherapy: A Developmentally Focussed Psychotherapy for Young People will be of immense value to clinicians working with young people, researchers engaging with evaluating TAPP and students of psychotherapy.

The Sexual Relationship David E. Scharff, 1998-03. Dr David Scharff explores the role of sexuality in human relationships by combining his extensive experience in individual, marital, family and sex therapy with theoretical contributions from object relations theory and child development.

Psychoanalytic Group Therapy Karl König, Wolf-Volker Lindner, 1994-08. Informed by Freudian, Foulkesian and object relations approaches to individual and group analytic therapy, König and Lindner's extensive theoretical understanding of groups and individuals is saturated with a flexible common sense that moves comfortably between theory and practical application      On Freud's Couch Iréne Matthis, Imre Szecsödy, 1998 These new interpretations reflect new perspectives conferred by the passage of time and the continuing transformations in social truth      Treating Borderline States in Marriage Charles C. McCormack, 2000 McCormack has constructed a new therapeutic approach to work with the acting out primitive defenses and undifferentiated dyadic relationships characteristic of personality disordered couples Creating a holding environment is just one of the techniques offered in this unique book that will enhance the capacities of every therapist      Foundations of Object Relations Family Therapy David Berkowitz, 1989 TABLE OF CONTENTS Part 1 The Foundations of Object Relations Family Therapy 1 The Development of Object Relations Family Therapy Ideas 2 Object Relations Theory and Its Application to Family Therapy Part 2 Adolescent Development in the Family Context 3 Maintenance of Stereotyped Roles in the Families of Schizophrenics 4 Identity and Ego Autonomy in Adolescence 5 The Origin of Adolescent Disturbances in the Family Some Considerations in Theory and Implications for Therapy Part 3 Shared Unconscious Fantasy and Projective Identification 6 Family Organization and Adolescent Development 7 Projective Identification as a Mode of Perception and Behavior in Families of Adolescents 8 The Influence of Family Experience on Borderline Personality Development 9 The Implications of Projective Identification for Marital Interaction 10 Who Are You and What Have You Done with My Wife Part 4 The Analytic Group Interpretive Approach 11 The Family Group as Single Psychic Entity Implications for Acting Out in Adolescence 12 The Adolescent the Family and the Group Boundary Considerations 13 Family Dynamics and Object Relations Theory An Analytic Group Interpretive Approach to Family Therapy 14 The Influence of Shared Unconscious Fantasy on Family Communication Part 5 Integration of Individual and Family Therapy 15 Concurrent Family Treatment of Narcissistic Disorders in Adolescence 16 The Borderline Ego and the Working Alliance Indications for Family and Individual Treatment in Adolescence 17 The Effects of Parental Self Esteem on Adolescent Individuation A Dimensional View 18 The Use of Concurrent Therapies Therapeutic Strategy or Reenactment 19 The Re Creation of the Family in the Mind of the Individual Therapist and the Re Creation of the Individual in the Mind of the Family Therapist Part 6 An Object Relations Approach to Sexuality in Family Life 20 The Role of Transitional Experience in Development in Healthy and Incestuous Families 21 Adolescent Sexuality in Family Therapy 22 An Object Relations Approach to Sexuality in Family Life Part 7 Object Relations Family Therapy 23 Transference Countertransference and Technique in Object Relations Family Therapy 24 Play An Aspect of the Therapist's Holding Capacity      Containing Rage, Terror and Despair Jeffrey Seinfeld, 1996 Clinicians are often perplexed and discouraged at seeing their patients suffer even more intensely as they face the defenses conflicts and deficits that have impeded their growth and development Often at the center of this increased suffering is an intense fear of giving up internalized bad objects      Tuning the Therapeutic Instrument Jill Savege Scharff, David E. Therapeutic Work with Children and Young People Beta Copley, Barbara Forryan, 1997 This new and thoroughly updated edition of Therapeutic Work with Children and Young People gives an overview of a psychodynamic therapeutic approach It draws on a wide range of case studies by professionals who have found this way of working extremely constructive Accessibly and sensitively written the book looks at the relevance of early relationships but places emphasis not so much on the individual's personal history as on exploration and understanding of their present state of mind and emotions Relevant theory is discussed with an emphasis on its practical application for everyday use within the caring professions

Countertransference Analysis Karl König, 1995 Beyond the idea of a blank screen and firmly rooted in today's understanding of the mutual give and take of conscious and unconscious processes in therapy hours Karl König's Countertransference Analysis examines the therapist's reactions to the patient and how best to use them effectively in treatment

The Autonomous Self John Derg Sutherland, 1994-03 A collection of the brilliant papers of John D Sutherland this volume gives the reader a unique education in the development of the self Noted psychoanalyst theoretician and editor J D Sutherland was best known as editor of the International Psychoanalytic Library and as the Director of the Tavistock Clinic where he secured an environment for colleagues like Wilfred Bion John Bowlby and Eric Trist to create and distribute their valuable ideas Now for the first time here is a collection of the works of John D Sutherland The papers are stunning in their clarity and in the scope of their vision The book's three sections reflect Sutherland's major interests object relations theory its application to groups and institutions and the development of the self As he was fond of saying object relations was not so much a theory as a way of working and he puts this idea into practice from understanding his individual patients to developing a blueprint for community mental health His papers on psychoanalytic theory reveal an erudite grasp of theory building Those on application show his profound concern for the human condition Deriving partly from his self analysis after the age of 70 his later papers take him beyond object relations theory to a theory of the self No psychoanalytic thinker has such a capacity for tolerating complexity No one else has shown a similar ability to relate personal individual depth psychology to social psychology Collected together in this volume John D Sutherland s papers present a remarkable appreciation for the needs of the individual and the community This book is both classic and contemporary It will appeal to individual and group psychotherapists of any discipline psychoanalysts pastoral counselors social workers and community development workers A masterpiece of care concern clinical acumen and vision this book is a major contribution to human understanding

From Instinct to Self William Ronald Dodds Fairbairn, 1994-09 Personal Relations Therapy Harry Guntrip, 1994 This book gives us the broad sweep of a remarkable psychoanalytic writer Harry Guntrip whose place is at the forefront of our efforts to explain the role of an emergent and resilient self in the organization and maintenance of human relations I believe that a substantial part of Guntrip s discovery his work on a painful and bleak frontier that was simultaneously within himself and in the realm of the science of psychoanalysis has been absorbed into the sensibility of the field with far less attribution and direct appreciation than is warranted Harry Guntrip brought a unique intensity to the examination of personal experience in constructing and validating psychoanalytic meaning His heritage draws directly on the tradition of Freud whose personal struggles formed the raw data for The Interpretation of Dreams There are few works of such stature in the annals of our work few examples of the blending of life and art life and science Guntrip s work is one of them In this volume Jeremy Hazell has done far more than simply collect the records He has done that and he has allowed it to stand for itself But he has done so through his own lens through a depth of understanding and valuing that shines through His introduction is a record of the interweaving of Guntrip s personal growth with his psychoanalytic understanding It is a Baedeker of Guntrip s travels a rich appreciation a tribute and a fine work in its own right Guntrip s work is important to us perhaps now more than ever The issues with which he grappled have come to haunt us in a time of ever more consciousness of the toll of social and personal deprivation and of a growing awareness that our work is not concerned with egos with the mechanisms of an autonomous mind as much as it is with selves in relation to others Taking from his teachers and colleagues from Fairbairn Winnicott and Sutherland Guntrip worked tirelessly to teach that it is in the depth of personal relations that we find ourselves and that dedication to this process offers us what we have to give to our patients Jeremy Hazell has drawn together the record of this personal journey He has understood it absorbed its meaning and given it to us that we may use it and expand its reach I am grateful to him for his dedication and for the appearance of this collection at long last a work that will illuminate paths of new exploration in psychoanalysis for many years to come

Readings, 1995 Close Encounters Robert Winer, 1994 This book takes its examples from psychotherapy psychoanalysis and couple and family treatment Experienced therapists Winer s humanizing text helpful in putting their own work and their own ambitions in perspective It offers a framework for living with the complexity of the therapeutic endeavor without falling prey to the practitioner's two great occupational hazards grandiosity and despair All therapists will find Close Encounters liberating as it helps them to feel more self accepting in the face of their difficult task of learning to make use of themselves as agents of change
