The Social Studies in Civic Education. Bulletin, 1923 Edgar Dawson, 1923 Twenty five years ago history and civics was the term generally applied to the efforts of the schools to explain man in society. The amount of civics in the combination is indicated by the fact that the committee of seven of the American Historical Association reporting in 1898 on the study of history in the schools recommended that civil government be taught only in the course in American history in grade 12 the last year of high school. During the quarter century since that date there has been a growing tendency to set up separate courses in the various subjects which have been developed in the universities. The advocates of these subjects have felt it to be their duty to urge that the disciplines for which they stood be given recognition in the curricula at least of the high schools if not further down in the system As time went on separate courses were offered in civics economics sociology and various combinations of these subjects The term social studies has come into use during the past decade to designate the contributions made to school teaching by the fields of history government economics sociology and geography Following an Introduction the following topics are covered in this bulletin 1 The Pennsylvania program 2 Combination courses 3 Civics and the teaching of government 4 History in the schools 5 The civic virtues and 6 The outlook for the social studies Best copy available has been provided      National Standards for Civics and Government Center for Civic Education (Calabasas, Calif.),1994
