Principles

Popular Sovereignty

The power to rule belongs to the people. The people of the nation are the sources of government power. The government can only govern with the consent of the people.

Task: Work with a partner to identify an example of popular sovereignty in the Constitution.

- Article I, Section 8: Congress has the power to coin money, regulate interstate and foreign commerce, and declare war.
- Article II, Section 2: The President has the power to grant pardons and reprieves.
- Article III, Section 2: The Supreme Court has the power to hear cases involving states, ambassadors, and consuls.

9 out of 13 states had to ratify for the new Constitution to go into effect.

The ratification would be democratic: state citizens would elect conventions to decide whether or not to ratify (all but Rhode Island did this).

Even with all the compromising, large and small states could still not agree.

Leaders split into two factions:

1. the Federalists (pro-ratification)
2. the Anti-Federalists (anti-ratification)
