Frederick C. Beiser,2018 This book is the first complete intellectual biography of Hermann Cohen 1842 1918 and the only work to cover all his major philosophical and Jewish writings Frederick C Beiser pays special attention to all phases of Cohen s intellectual development its breaks and its continuities throughout seven decades The guiding goal behind Cohen s intellectual career he argues was the development of a radical rationalism one committed to defending the rights of unending enquiry and unlimited criticism Cohen s philosophy was therefore an attempt to defend and revive the Enlightenment belief in the authority of reason his critical idealism an attempt to justify this belief and to establish a purely rational worldview

According to this interpretation Cohen's thought is resolutely opposed to any form of irrationalism or mysticism because these would impose arbitrary and artificial limits on criticism and enquiry. It is therefore critical of those interpretations which see Cohen's philosophy as a species of proto-existentialism. Rosenzweig or Jewish mysticism. Adelman and Kohnke. Hermann Cohen. An Intellectual Biography attempts to unify the two sides of Cohen's thought: his philosophy and his Judaism. Maintaining that Cohen's Judaism was not a limit to his radical rationalism but a consistent development of it. Beiser contends that his religion was one of reason. He concludes that most critical interpretations have failed to appreciate the philosophical depth and sophistication of his Judaism: a religion which committed the believer to the unending search for truth and the striving to achieve the cosmopolitan ideals of reason.

The Biology of Epithelial Cell Populations Nicholas A. Wright, Malcolm Alison, 1984. This book brings together in a critical study current research on epithelial cell populations. It sets out to analyse the principles by which epithelial cell populations are organized in terms of the function of their component populations. The approach is both descriptive and operational, giving special emphasis to epithelial cell lineages, three-dimensional organization, methodology for measuring epithelial cell population sizes and proliferative rates, epithelial stem cell populations, growth reactions, response to cytotoxic insult, carcinogenesis and epithelial growth control. The book is directed primarily at those who are interested in the organization of proliferating and differentiating tissue systems in terms of their contained cell lineages. There are many lessons in epithelia for those studying growth control since they are in many situations ideal models upon which to test general ideas and concepts. The authors also indicate the most important new research areas and provide advice on the practical approach to problems in epithelial cell proliferation and its control.
