

Bacteria - Form and Function

“Use the descriptions in the text to label the bacterium images.”

Many bacteria are surrounded by a thick capsule. The capsule can protect the cell from the immune system. Many bacteria that make us sick, like salmonella, have capsules.

Underneath the capsule is the cell wall. The cell wall provides additional support and protection.

Bacteria, like all cells, have a cell membrane. This membrane encloses the cytoplasm of the cell. The cell membrane regulates what comes in and out of the cell.

Bacteria do not have a nucleus. Instead, their DNA is found floating in the cytoplasm in an area called the nucleoid region.

The plasmid is a circular DNA molecule that is involved in sexual reproduction. Plasmids also contain genes that are involved in antibiotic resistance.

Bacteria also have tiny ribosomes throughout the cytoplasm. They are responsible for making proteins that are used to build and maintain cell parts.

Some bacteria have flagella which enable them to move or stick to surfaces.

Bacteria are very tiny; most are about 1 μm in diameter. In comparison, the width of a human hair is about 70 μm .

Bacteria (prokaryotes) are also smaller than eukaryotic cells, like those found in plants and animals. The cells of animals are about 100 μm in diameter.
