Chapter 4:

1. Who is Bernard Marx? What are his distinguishing features? What kind of diction does Huxley use to describe him? Show examples!

Bernard is an Alpha citizen who, by some misfortune, is physically much smaller than Alphas are supposed to be. Bernard's small stature has given him an inferiority complex. As a result, he feels like an outsider to World State society. This outsider status and individuality allow Bernard to recognize and criticize the flaws of the World State and, as a result, other citizens suspect him for his avoidance of universally accepted things like promiscuous sex and the soma drug that the rest of the population uses to numb themselves. But Bernard's inferiority complex also makes him defensive, resentful, jealous, cowardly, and boastful. For example, "Bernard gave his orders in the sharp, rather arrogant and even offensive tone of one who does not feel too secure in his superiority" (55). This shows how he doesn't want to be disrespected by any lower class because of his height. Bernard dates Lenina Crowne at the beginning of the novel, taking her to the Savage Reservation in New Mexico.

2. Who is Helmholtz Watson? What are his distinguishing features? How should we feel about them as readers?

Helmholtz Watson is an Alpha lecturer at the College of Emotional Engineering (Department of Writing) and in the intervals of his educational activities, a working Emotional Engineer. He is a powerfully built man, handsome, deep-chested, broad-shouldered, massive, and quick in his movements, springy and agile. He has dark and curl hair, and his features are strongly marked. As readers, these features are used by the author to develop the character's external characteristics making him stand out and distinguishable. It also shows how Helmholtz is the opposite of his close friend, Bernard: he is the perfect embodiment of an Alpha citizen. Helmholtz is a prime example of his profession but feels that his work is empty and meaningless and would like to use his writing abilities for something more meaningful. He and Bernard are friends because they find common ground in their discontent with the World State, but Helmholtz's criticisms of the World State are more philosophical and intellectual than Bernard's more petty complaints. As a result, Helmholtz often finds Bernard's boastfulness and cowardice tedious.

3. What is the basis of friendship between Bernard Marx and Helmholtz Watson?
