1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered.

100

The shock absorber assembly is essentially a conventional shock absorber contained in an air chamber. The shock absorber pistons are interconnected with a rubber-like piston attached to the dust tube and shock insulator. This makes a flexible chamber which will extend the shock when air pressure in the chamber is increased. When air pressure is reduced, the weight of the cylinder collapses the shock absorber assembly. In maximum proper operation and reliability of the shock absorber assembly, a maximum pressure of 75-90 kPa (10-13 psi) is maintained at all times by the air flow controller.

- Limit maximum output pressure of the compressor assembly by acting as a shut-off valve.
