Algebra II End-Of-Course Exam Achieve, Inc, 2008 States are increasingly focusing the mission of their elementary and secondary education systems on preparing all students for success in postsecondary education and 21st century careers As standards have increased so too have graduation requirements Today 20 states and the District of Columbia have adopted such high school graduation policies Even before states had raised their mathematics expectations it became clear that a different kind of assessment was needed to reflect their changing expectations To that end fourteen states Arkansas Indiana Kentucky Maryland Massachusetts New Jersey Ohio Pennsylvania Rhode Island Arizona Hawaii Minnesota North Carolina and Washington joined together to develop and use a common end of course exam in Algebra II In the spring of 2008 nearly ninety thousand students across twelve of the fourteen states in the partnership took the ADP Algebra II end of course exam for the first time In subsequent years the number of exam takers is expected to grow significantly This report released as the scores from the first administration are reported to students their teachers and their parents provides an overview of the test as well as exam results from each of the participating states Most states offered the test on a pilot basis this year giving many educators a first look at the expectations of a rigorous Algebra II course assessment States are in the process of developing policies for the use of the test and how it will fit into their still evolving high school assessment and accountability systems While most of the states in the partnership require or plan to require students to take Algebra II in order to graduate these new requirements are being phased in over time and do not apply to most of the students who took the exam this year Consequently this year s participation rates in Algebra II courses and in the ADP end of course exam vary from state to state Therefore comparisons of state results are neither meaningful nor appropriate at this time Contains 6 tables and 10 notes Big Ideas Math Course
