Proper adjustment of this stripper is important for best results. Handle and legs handle is on top of the stripper and the blade adjustment is pushed down. Blade depth can be adjusted for end or window type strip. Place the handle in the notch central to the pivot. Rotate the stripper as far as the notches allow and pull away from you. The cut between the parallel cuts gives the wire its final notch. Press the head until you hear the blade cutting through the insulation. Push the cable forward, or you need an end strip, pull the strip off the head.
