Einstein Never Used Flash Cards Kathy Hirsh-Pasek, Roberta Michnick Golinkoff, 2003-10-03 Discusses the growing trend toward accelerated learning and the pressure put upon parents to meet constant expectations introducing creative games that parents can play with their child to enhance development Tap, Click, Read Lisa Guernsey, Michael H. Levine, 2015-08-14 A guide to promoting literacy in the digital age With young children gaining access to a dizzying array of games videos and other digital media will they ever learn to read The answer is yes if they are surrounded by adults who know how to help and if they are introduced to media designed to promote literacy instead of undermining it Tap Click Read gives educators and parents the tools and information they need to help children grow into strong passionate readers who are skilled at using media and technology of all kinds print digital and everything in between In Tap Click Read authors Lisa Guernsey and Michael H Levine envision a future that is human centered first and tech assisted second They document how educators and parents can lead a new path to a place they call Readialand a literacy rich world that marries reading and digital media to bring knowledge skills and critical thinking to all of our children This approach is driven by the urgent need for low income children and parents to have access to the same 21st century literacy opportunities already at the fingertips of today s affluent families With stories from homes classrooms and cutting edge tech labs plus accessible translation of new research and compelling videos Guernsey and Levine help educators parents and America s leaders tackle the questions that arise as digital media plays a larger and larger role in children s lives starting in their very first years of life Tap Click Read includes an analysis of the exploding app marketplace and provides useful information on new review sites and valuable curation tools It shows what to avoid and what to demand in today s apps and e books as well as what to seek in community preschools elementary schools and libraries Peppered with the latest research from fields as diverse as neuroscience and behavioral economics and richly documented examples of best practices from schools and early childhood programs around the country Tap Click Read will show you how to Promote the adult child interactions that help kids grow into strong readers Learn how to use digital media to build a foundation for reading and success Discover new tools that open up avenues for creativity critical thinking and knowledge building that today s children need The book s accompanying website keeps you updated on new research and provides vital resources to help parents schools and community organizations Becoming Brilliant Roberta Michnick Golinkoff, Kathy Hirsh-Pasek, 2016-05-16 In just a few years today s children and teens will forge careers that look nothing like those that were available to their parents or grandparents While the U S economy becomes ever more information driven our system of education seems stuck on the idea that content is king neglecting other skills that 21st century citizens sorely need Becoming Brilliant offers solutions that parents can implement right now Backed by the latest scientific evidence and illustrated with examples of what s being done right in schools today this book introduces the 6Cs collaboration communication content critical thinking creative innovation and confidence along with ways parents can nurture their children's development in each area Learning from Young Children Suzanne L. Burton, 2011-08-16 In early childhood the most important period of learning and human development young children often achieve developmental milestones in a short time Learning from Young Children Research in Early Childhood Music presents research on the importance of fostering musical growth during this period These studies discuss applying brain research to young children's musical growth music in the home and child care contexts musical characteristics of the young child language acquisition as a lens on music learning music as a foundation for communication parental conceptions of the role of music in early childhood music as a pathway for building community using music to elicit vocalizations in children with special needs With research designs ranging from statistical mixed methods survey content analysis and case study to philosophical inquiry this book will help practitioners base their practice in research and offers a wide range of information for scholars and researchers studying early childhood music learning and development Pre-school Parenting Secrets: Talking With The Sky Kylie Bell, David Phu An Chiem, Brian Caswell, 2010-07-23 As parents we are the earth from which our children grow How we prepare and fertilise the soil will define their relationship with the world It will determine the nature of their lifelong conversation with the universe Pre school Parenting Secrets Talking with the Sky is every parent's guide to preparing pre schoolers for life in the 21st Century Best selling authors and educators Brian Caswell David Chiem and Kylie Bell have spent their lives in education research and the arts In Pre school Parenting Secrets Talking with the Sky they have combined their prodigious talents to create the decade's essential guide to pre schooler parenting turning years of pains taking research into simple and practical strategies and fun activities And the best part is that the process is FUN for both child and parent

Tales of Literacy for the 21st Century Maryanne Wolf, 2016-07-21 The Literary Agenda is a series of short polemical monographs about the importance of literature and of reading in the wider world and about the state of literary education inside schools and universities The category of the literary has always been contentious What is clear however is how increasingly it is dismissed or is unrecognised as a way of thinking or an arena for thought It is sceptically challenged from within for example by the sometimes rival claims of cultural history contextualized explanation or media studies It is shaken from without by even greater pressures by economic exigency and the severe social attitudes that can follow from it by technological change that may leave the traditional forms of serious human communication looking merely antiquated For just these reasons this is the right time for renewal to start reinvigorated work into the meaning and value of literary reading Being Literate in the 21st Century wrestles with critical timely questions for 21st century society How does literacy change the human brain What does it mean to be a literate or a non literate person in the present digital culture for example what will be lost in the present reading brain and what will be gained with different mediums than print What are the consequences of a digital reading brain for the literary mind and for writing itself Can knowledge about the reading brain and advances in technology offer new forms of literacy and new forms of knowledge to the peoples in remote regions of the world who would never otherwise become literate By using both research from cognitive neuroscience psycholinguistics child development and education and considering literary examples from world literature Maryanne Wolf plots a course that seeks to preserve the deepest forms of reading from the past while developing the cognitive skills necessary for this century s next generation
