Chapter 1

Problem 1.1

A nucleus, originally at rest, decays radioactively by emitting an electron of momentum $1.73 \text{ MeV}/c$, and at right angles to the direction of the electron a neutrino with momentum $1.00 \text{ MeV}/c$. (The MeV (million electron volt) is a unit of energy, used in modern physics, equal to $1.60 \times 10^{-6} \text{ erg}$. Correspondingly, MeV/c is a unit of linear momentum equal to $5.34 \times 10^{-22} \text{ gm-cm/sec.}$) In what direction does the nucleus recoil? What is its momentum in MeV/c ? If the mass of the residual nucleus is $3.90 \times 10^{-22} \text{ gm}$, what is its kinetic energy, in electron volts?

Place the nucleus at the origin, and suppose the electron is emitted in the positive y direction, and the neutrino in the positive x direction. Then the resultant of the electron and neutrino momenta has magnitude

$$|\mathbf{p}_{e+\nu}| = \sqrt{(1.73)^2 + 1^2} = 2 \text{ MeV}/c,$$

and its direction makes an angle

$$\theta = \tan^{-1} \frac{1.73}{1} = 60^\circ$$

with the x axis. The nucleus must acquire a momentum of equal magnitude and directed in the opposite direction. The kinetic energy of the nucleus is

$$T = \frac{p^2}{2m} = \frac{4 \text{ MeV}^2 c^{-2}}{2 \cdot 3.9 \cdot 10^{-22} \text{ gm}} \cdot \frac{1.78 \cdot 10^{-27} \text{ gm}}{1 \text{ MeV } c^{-2}} = 9.1 \text{ eV}$$

This is much smaller than the nucleus rest energy of several hundred GeV , so the non-relativistic approximation is justified.

Classical Mechanics Goldstein Problem Solutions:

Classical Mechanics Peeter Joot, This is a collection of notes on classical mechanics and contains a few things A collection of miscellaneous notes and problems for my personal independent classical mechanics studies A fair amount of those notes were originally in my collection of Geometric Clifford Algebra related material so may assume some knowledge of that subject My notes for some of the PHY354 lectures I attended That class was taught by Prof Erich Poppitz I audited some of the Wednesday lectures since the timing was convenient I took occasional notes did the first problem set and a subset of problem set 2 These notes when I took them likely track along with the Professor s hand written notes very closely since his lectures follow his notes very closely Some assigned problems from the PHY354 course ungraded not submitted since I did not actually take the course I ended up only doing the first problem set and two problems from the second problem set Miscellaneous worked problems from other sources Classical Analogies in the Solution of Quantum Many-Body Problems Aydın Cem Keser, 2018-11-07 This book addresses problems in three main developments in modern condensed matter physics namely topological superconductivity many body localization and strongly interacting condensates superfluids by employing fruitful analogies from classical mechanics This strategy has led to tangible results firstly in superconducting nanowires the density of states a smoking gun for the long sought Majorana zero mode is calculated effortlessly by mapping the problem to a textbook level classical point particle problem Secondly in localization theory even the simplest toy models that exhibit many body localization are mathematically cumbersome and results rely on simulations that are limited by computational power In this book an alternative viewpoint is developed by describing many body localization in terms of quantum rotors that have incommensurate rotation frequencies an exactly solvable system Finally the fluctuations in a strongly interacting Bose condensate and superfluid a notoriously difficult system to analyze from first principles are shown to mimic stochastic fluctuations of space time due to quantum fields This analogy not only allows for the computation of physical properties of the fluctuations in an elegant way it sheds light on the nature of space time The book will be a valuable contribution for its unifying style that illuminates conceptually challenging developments in condensed matter physics and its use of elegant mathematical models in addition to producing new and concrete results Classical Mechanics Herbert Goldstein, John L. Safko, Charles P. Poole, 2014-03-20 For thirty years this has been the acknowledged standard in advanced classical mechanics courses This classic text enables students to make connections between classical and modern physics an indispensable part of a physicist s education In this edition Beams Medal winner Charles Poole and John Safko have updated the text to include the latest topics applications and notation to reflect today s physics curriculum They introduce students to the increasingly important role that nonlinearities play in contemporary applications of classical mechanics New numerical exercises help students to develop skills in how to use computer techniques to solve problems in physics Mathematical techniques are presented in detail so that the text remains fully accessible to students who have not had an intermediate course in classical
