

chapter 13- the presidency

- The president- the most powerful position in the world
 - Responsibilities of the executive branch increased dramatically in the 20th century
 - Still needs support of congress and public to get things done
 - Hard in divided government (different parties control the executive and legislative branches)
- Perspectives on Presidential Power
 - 1950s and 60s, people favored a powerful president
 - By 1970's, presidential power was checked and distrusted

federalist 70 (hamilton)

- Advocated for a single, energetic, executive (president)
- An executive is needed to prevent a weak government, and it could be done two ways:
 - 2 executives
 - Danger of too much debate and disagreement- tear them apart
 - Allows for them to avoid taking responsibility
 - Public doesn't know who's responsible
 - 1 executive
 - Unitary executive to take responsibility for actions and defend against encroachment of legislative on his power
- 2 executive are bad in the executive, but necessary in the legislative
 - Advocating for a bicameral legislature
 - Slows down the process to allow for more careful consideration
 - Prevents tyranny of the majority basic requirements to be president:

- 35 years old
- Natural-born citizen
- Lived in the US for previous 14 years who has been the president?

- Mostly white, protestant men

More Than a Health Crisis Jessica Kirk,2023-10-24 How the West African Ebola epidemic was transformed from an urgent and distant tragedy into an existential threat to American lives establishing the dynamics that would later dominate the US response to epidemics such as COVID 19 In 2014 and 2015 the viral Ebola epidemic in West Africa inspired breathless US media coverage and became the subject of heated public debate over just how to understand the security issue that the outbreak presented Was it a security concern because of the lives at risk in West Africa Or because of its threat to regional and global stability Or was it potentially a threat to the American people In More Than a Health Crisis Jessica Kirk reveals how these varied positions spoke to divisions within the American public concerning how we think about and respond to uncertainty competing expertise and securitization Kirk insightfully examines how experts in different fields offered conflicting assessments of the risks posed by Ebola and then goes on to analyze how the US press undermined the authority of the public health experts who accurately predicted that the virus posed little danger to Americans Reading the media coverage of the Ebola epidemic as a case study in the biopolitics of fear Kirk considers how the US response reflected not only anxieties over globalization but also long held narratives about the Dark Continent Finally Kirk shows how the US and global public response to the Ebola outbreak challenged traditional models of securitization and identifies patterns that have tragically recurred with subsequent epidemics such as COVID 19 and monkeypox The Shield Theta Delta Chi,1899
