Boston Housing Report Card 2005:

Household Incomes and Housing Costs United States. Congress. House. Committee on Financial Services, 2007 The American Suburb Jon C. Teaford, 2020-09-10 The American Suburb The Basics is a compact readable introduction to the origins and contemporary realities of the American suburb Teaford provides an account of contemporary American suburbia examining its rise its diversity its commercial life its government and its housing issues While offering a wide ranging yet detailed account of the dominant way of life in America today Teaford also explores current debates regarding suburbia s future Americans live in suburbia and this essential survey explains the all important world in which they live shop play and work Getting Ahead Silvia Dominguez, 2011 Honorable Mention 2014 Distinguished Contribution to Research Award presented by the Latina o Sociology Section of the American Sociological Association Getting Ahead tells the compelling stories of Latin American immigrant women living in public housing in two Boston area neighborhoods Silvia Dom nguez argues that these immigrant women parlay social ties that provide support and leverage to develop networks and achieve social positioning to get ahead Through a rich ethnographic account and in depth interviews the strong voices of these women demonstrate how they successfully negotiate the world and achieve social mobility through their own individual agency skillfully navigating both constraints and opportunities Dom nguez makes it clear that many immigrant women are able to develop the social support needed for a rich social life and leverage ties that open options for them to develop their social and human capital However she also shows that factors such as neighborhood and domestic violence and the unavailability of social services leave many women without the ability to strategize towards social mobility Ultimately Dom nguez makes important local and international policy recommendations on issue ranging from public housing to world labor visas demonstrating how policy can help to improve the lives of these and other low income people Governing the Fragmented Metropolis Christina D. Rosan, 2016-10-18 Today the challenges facing our nation s metropolitan regions are enormous demographic change aging infrastructure climate change mitigation and adaptation urban sprawl spatial segregation gentrification education housing affordability regional equity and more Unfortunately local governments do not have the capacity to respond to the interlocking set of problems facing metropolitan regions and future challenges such as population growth and climate change will not make it easier But will we ever have a more effective and sustainable approach to developing the metropolitan region The answer may depend on our ability to develop a means to govern a metropolitan region that promotes population density regional public transit systems and the equitable development of city and suburbs within a system of land use and planning that is by and large a local one If we want to plan for sustainable regions we need to understand and strengthen existing metropolitan planning arrangements Christina D Rosan observes that policy makers and scholars have long agreed that we need metropolitan governance but they have debated the best approach She argues that we need to have a more nuanced understanding of both metropolitan development and local land use planning She interviews over ninety local and regional policy makers in Portland Denver and Boston and compares the uses of collaboration and authority in their varying metropolitan planning processes At one end of the spectrum is Portland s approach which leverages its authority and mandates local land use at the other end is Boston s which offers capacity building and financial incentives in the hopes of garnering voluntary cooperation Rosan contends that most regions lie somewhere in between and only by understanding our current hybrid system of local land use planning and metropolitan governance will we be able to think critically about what political arrangements and tools are necessary to support the development of environmentally economically and socially sustainable metropolitan regions The Greater Boston Housing Report Card 2002 Ryan Allen,Center for Urban and Regional Policy,Citizens Housing and Planning Association of Metropolitan Boston,Boston Foundation. Boston Indicators Project,2002 The Greater Boston Housing Report Card 2003 Bonnie Heudorfer,Barry Bluestone,Stein Helmrach,Northeastern University.
