Concept Review Holt Environmental Science Ch 18:

Holt Science and Technology Holt Rinehart & Winston, Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff, 2001      5 Easy Pieces Daniel Pauly, 2010-07-28 5 Easy Pieces features five contributions originally published in Nature and Science demonstrating the massive impacts of modern industrial fisheries on marine ecosystems Initially published over an eight year period from 1995 to 2003 these articles illustrate a transition in scientific thought from the initially contested realization that the crisis of fisheries and their underlying ocean ecosystems was in fact global to its broad acceptance by mainstream scientific and public opinion Daniel Pauly a well known fisheries expert who was a co author of all five articles presents each original article here and surrounds it with a rich array of contemporary comments many of which led Pauly and his colleagues to further study This wonderfully reflective structure dramatically illustrates how science and society influence one another sometimes to the betterment of both      Holt Science and Technology 2002 Holt Rinehart & Winston, Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff, 2002      Psychology Carole Wade, Carol Tavris, 1987      Holt Biology Rob DeSalle, Holt Rinehart and Winston, 2008 Holt Biology Student Edition 2008      Science Spectrum Holt Rinehart & Winston, Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff, 2003-03      Addressing Epistemic Injustice in Mental Health Karen Newbigging, Anthony Salla, Ulla-Karin Schön, Colin King, 2024-03-20 Epistemic injustice was conceptualized by Fricker as a form of social injustice which occurs when people's authority as a knower is ignored dismissed or marginalized It is attracting increasing interest in the mental health field because of the asymmetries of power between people using mental health services and mental health professionals People experiencing mental health distress are particularly vulnerable to epistemic injustice as a consequence of deeply embedded social stigma negative stereotyping and assumed irrationality This is amplified by other forms of stereotyping or structural discrimination including racism misogyny and homophobia Consequently individual testimonies may be discounted as both irrational and unreliable Epistemic injustice also operates systemically reflecting social and demographic characteristics such as race gender sexuality or disability or age      Women and Health Marlene B. Goldman, Rebecca Troisi, Kathryn M. Rexrode, 2012-12-31 Women and Health is a comprehensive reference that addresses health issues affecting women of all ages from adolescence through maturity It goes far beyond other books on this topic which concentrate only on reproductive health and has a truly international perspective It covers key issues ranging from osteoporosis to breast cancer and other cancers domestic violence sexually transmitted diseases occupational hazards eating disorders heart disease and other chronic illnesses substance abuse and societal and behavioral influences on health In this second edition of Women and Health chapters thoughtfully explore the current state of women's health and health care including the influences of sex and gender on the occurrence of a wide variety of diseases and conditions All chapters have been extensively updated and emphasize the epidemiology of the condition the etiology occurrence primary and secondary prevention screening risk factors surveillance changing trends over time and critical analysis of the diagnostic and treatment options and controversies

Treatment sections in each chapter have been expanded to create a stronger dialogue between epidemiologists and women's health practitioners. Saves researchers and clinicians time in quickly accessing the very latest details on a broad range of women's health issues as opposed to searching through thousands of journal articles. Provides a common language for epidemiologists, public health practitioners and women's health specialists to discuss the behavioral, cultural and biological determinants of women's health. Researchers and medical specialists will learn how the gender-specific risks and features of one organ system's diseases affect the health of other organ systems. For example, Hormone replacement therapy used to treat imbalance within the endocrine system is also being used to prevent and treat cardiovascular disease. Drugs developed for type 2 diabetes are now being used in chemoprevention. Orients the non-gerontologist about the importance of considering the entire life cycle of women within research designs and treatment plans. Professors teaching courses in women's health will use slides and additional materials to structure lectures; courses students will use slides as a unique resource to study for exams.

Nuclear Science Abstracts, 1969-11      Owned, An Ethological Jurisprudence of Property Johanna Gibson, 2019-12-06 This book draws upon domestication science to undertake a radical reappraisal of the jurisprudence of property and intellectual property. Bringing together animal studies and legal philosophy, it articulates a critique of dominant property models and relationships from the perspective of cognitive ethology, domestication science and animal behaviour. In doing so, a radical new picture of property emerges. Focusing on the emergence of property models through prevailing ideas of human domestication and settlement, the book challenges the anthropocentrism that informs standard approaches to ownership and to authorship. Utilising a wide range of examples from ethology and animal studies, the book thus rethinks the very nature of property as uniquely human. This highly original contribution to the fields of property and intellectual property will appeal not only to legal scholars in these areas as well as in animal law, but also to legal theorists and others working in the social sciences with interests in posthumanism and animal studies.
