The Design Productivity Debate Alex H.B. Duffy,2012-12-06 Over the past decade with greater emphasis being placed upon shorter lead times better quality products reduced product costs and greater customer satisfaction the topic of Engineering Design has received increased interest from the industrial and academic communities Considerable effort has been directed at developing design process methodologies and building computer tools that focus upon relatively narrow aspects of design but many key problems in Engineering Design research and practice remain unanswered Resulting from the First International Engineering Design Debate held in Glasgow UK in late 1996 this volume discusses the main issues concerning the improvement of design productivity Covering design studies design development concurrent engineering and design knowledge and information it attempts to derive a common understanding of the basic factors problems and potential solutions involved      Knowledge Intensive Computer Aided Design Susan Finger,Tetsuo Tomiyama,Martti

Mäntylä,2013-03-09 Computer Aided Design CAD technology plays a key role in today's advanced manufacturing environment To reduce the time to market achieve zero defect quality the at first production and use available production and logistics resources effectively product and design process knowledge covering the whole product life cycle must be used throughout product design Once generated this intensive design knowledge should be made available to later life cycle activities Due to the increasing concern about global environmental issues and rapidly changing economical situation worldwide design must exhibit high performance not only in quality and productivity but also in life cycle issues including extended producer s liability This requires designers and engineers to use various kinds of design knowledge intensively during product design and to generate design information for use in later stages of the product life cycle such as production distribution operation maintenance reclamation and recycling Therefore future CAD systems must incorporate product and design process knowledge which is not explicitly dealt with in the current systems in their design tools and design object models
