Group Work in Schools Bradley T. Erford, 2015-08-14 School counselors are often the only employees in school settings with any formal education in group work and yet their training is typically a general course on how to run groups Group Work in Schools provides an alternative training model one that presents exactly what counselors need to know in order to successfully implement task driven psychoeducational and counseling psychotherapy groups in any educational setting Additions to this newly updated second edition include discussion topics activities case examples integrated CACREP standards and learning outcomes as well as an overall update to reflect the most recent research and knowledge

Counseling Children Charles L. Thompson, Linda B. Rudolph, Donna A. Henderson, 2004 Unparalleled in its translation of theory into practice COUNSELING CHILDREN covers the most practical and up to date methods for developing effective approaches to counseling children The authors provide a comprehensive yet easy to read text that includes useful strategies and case studies from actual counseling sessions to present a realistic look at the field

Working with Parents and Families of Exceptional Children and Youth Richard L. Simpson, Nancy A. Mundschenk, 2010 Features First person narrative vignettes help to highlight the critical role collaborative relationships play in working effectively with parents and families of children and youth with exceptionalities Activities are provided at the end of each chapter to help the reader integrate and apply his/her understanding of the material including role play exercises based on case studies presented in the appendices Straightforward and functional content that assists educators and related service personnel with knowledge and skill acquisition directly connected to effective collaboration with parents and families of children and youth with exceptionalities Integration of effective practice methods and current literature in an easy to understand albeit highly professional resource The primary theme of the fourth edition of Working with Parents and Families of Exceptional Children and Youth is that educators and related service professionals must be involved in helping parents and families to contend with the challenges of raising living with and educating a child who has an exceptionality This text retains its focus on developing critical knowledge and skills for conferencing and collaborating that springs from a strength based approach when working with families to develop responsive practitioners. Additionally, it offers professionals current evidence-based methods and related resources for building knowledge and skill sets needed for effective parent and family involvement. The text is organized in three sections. 1. Part 1 begins with an overview of the historical and changing nature of the family. It continues with specific strategies to establish trust and effective partnerships with parents and families of various configurations, including those with different languages, cultural practices, lifestyles, and values. 2. Part 2 details methods to address parents' concerns during initial conferences to report academic and social issues. Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003. Family Nursing and Child Care Carmella Luise Riehl, 1966. Groups in Schools Anne M. Geroski, Kurt L. Kraus, 2010. Finally, a textbook that teaches students how to effectively lead counseling and classroom groups in schools. This practical, user-friendly book contains the most relevant information critical to working with students in both classroom, psychoeducational, and counseling group work in schools. Building upon students and practitioners' generalist preparation to lead groups, Group Work in Schools: Preparing Leaders to Respond offers readers practical direction in planning and facilitating groups in the school setting. The ideas presented in the book are applicable to a variety of group venues and adaptable to multiple age levels. The nuts and bolts approach in this book is complemented by a focus on how school counselors can use group work to address complex and nuanced issues, particularly those social issues frequently referred to as diversity issues in their school communities. In short, this book teaches school counselors to be intentional in their group work practice in schools. The National Faculty Directory, 1987. Books in Print, 1982. Crime and Correction, 1959. Patterson's American Education Homer L.
