Applying Educational Research: How to Read, Do, and Use Research to Solve Problems of Practice Joyce P. Gall, M. D. Gall, Walter R. Borg, 2013-10-03 This text is intended for instructors who emphasize teaching students how to locate read and interpret and apply the findings of educational research studies This revision addresses how to design and conduct a research study in more detail The text includes numerous recent published research articles involving high interest problems of educational practice The chapters which treat quantitative qualitative and applied forms of educational research stand alone allowing instructors to choose those they want to cover This text brings research alive for educators by introducing readers to people who actually do research Designed for courses focused primarily on applying rather than conducting research it includes 13 actual research articles reprinted in their entirety The book makes no assumptions about readers prior knowledge of research or statistics This text builds students confidence so that they are able to successfully read research reports and research For the first time readers will see the relevance of research to educational practice

Educational Research: Material Culture and Its Representation Paul Smeyers, Marc Depaepe, 2014-02-10 This collection discusses and illustrates how educational research is affected by the economic institutional and physical contingencies of its time and in our time even increasingly is driven by them It is argued that the antidote to this is however not to aspire to thought itself but instead to do justice to its own rootedness in the material including textuality From an historical point of view such an innovative approach can itself revamp the material scholarly culture and the way it is represented The chapters address a variety of topics such as the cultural heritage of the school desk the significance of images for research into long term educational processes the way iconic signs function and how modes of enquiry relate to the materiality of education Attention is also given to standards for reporting on educational research studies and how these limit the scope and communication and moreover shape researchers to the forms of citation practices as substantially influencing methods and content and to the centrality of conversation not just as the means to an end but as what matters further to representational and to non representational theories for educational research Some examples are drawn from the area of arts based educational research from mathematics education and from the discourse on universities

Research on Teaching Strategies and Skills in Different Educational Stages Pedro Gil-Madrona, Linda Saraiva, Luisa Losada-Puente, 2025-03-19 The teaching practice becomes a reciprocal activity in the classroom when teachers apply their creativity and their knowledge resulting from research and scientific evidence in the didactic teaching process with the purpose of strengthening in the students the key competencies of their training turning students at the core of the didactic process Teaching strategies must be articulated from previous research and planning and designed sequentially to promote real and interesting learning scenarios and thereby achieve significant learning From this perspective of teaching learning strategies the reciprocal interaction between the student and the teacher becomes the focus of attention with a playful motivating interesting and rewarding approach for the learner The role of the teacher is conceived as fundamental in the teaching process to achieve the link between teaching learning and evaluation strategies For this reason multidisciplinary studies are welcome from all stages of the educational system with quantitative qualitative and mixed approaches and reviews promoting good teaching practices of reflection and innovation from these studies

Educational Research by Association Trevor Gale, Bob Lingard, 2010-01-01 Educational Research by Association is an archive of an archive It is a collection of eleven Presidential Addresses delivered over the last 40 years to the annual conference of the Australian Association for Research in Education AARE and published annually in AARE's academic journal the Australian Educational Researcher AER However it is more than an archive in that the selection and the opening essay seek to plot evaluate and contribute to definitions of education research and its functions and purposes in a changing world and to consider its impact broadly defined in both actual and desirable or normative terms In pursuing this agenda the book highlights a number of key issues that have become important in educational research over time particularly in Australia but also around the globe These include defining education research as a field including AARE's location within that field and the positioning of the presidents Addresses therein They also include questions about the purposes of education research which implies as well the issue of the readership for such research The selection also touches on matters of dissemination publication and diffusion and impact more broadly raising matters of publication and the various and competing outlets for publication of education research nationally and increasingly on an international scale Issues of quality including associated politics also come into play as do questions of the relationship of education research to education policy and practice These latter questions have become more significant in state policies framed by a new public management that call for evidence based policy The opening essay by Bob Lingard and Trevor Gale two former AARE Presidents traverses these matters generally and in respect of this archive of Presidential Addresses helping to define educational research in an increasingly globalised world
