

Script #1: Post-Sale Follow-Up

If you've got a client with whom you've recently done business, you've got a built-in opportunity for a follow-up call. For example, if you work in real estate, you can touch base a couple months after closing, to see how everything is going.

"Hi [client's name], how are you? This is [your name], and I wanted to congratulate you [and spouse/partner's name, if applicable] again on your new home! How is everything working out with your new place so far?"

Notice that the above template leaves room to incorporate the name of a spouse. The more personal details you can sprinkle into this conversation, the better. If your buyer is a parent, this is a great opportunity to ask about their kids—especially if they've changed schools because of this transaction.

"I hope you and your family are loving [name of neighborhood] so far. How's [child's name] doing at [his/her] new school?"

By including these personal details, you're making the conversation more memorable, while also forming a greater bond with your client.

This contact is also especially powerful, seeing as a whopping 70 percent of homebuyers forget their agent's name within a year—even though, in many cases, they'd likely be willing to work with them again. By showing your clients you haven't forgotten them, you can ensure you'll be remembered.

Before you hang up, make it clear to your client that you'd like this relationship to continue far beyond your completed transaction.

"It was so good talking to you again, [client's name]. Give my best to [spouse/children]."

"I'll check back in with you in a few months to see how you're doing. But don't hesitate to reach out if you need anything else in the meantime, or if you know of anyone else who might be looking for a new home."
