Consumer Behavior Roger D. Blackwell, Paul W. Miniard, James F. Engel, 2006 CONSUMER BEHAVIOR 10th Edition offers a practical business approach designed to help students apply consumer behavior principles to their studies in business and marketing to their future business careers and also to their private lives as consumers. This multi-disciplinary field can tempt both students and instructors to stray from the basic business principles they should take away from the course. Blackwell keeps students focused on consumer decision making as it applies specifically to an overall understanding of business theory and practices through the CDP Consumer Decision Process model. CONSUMER BEHAVIOR 10e focuses on why as well as how consumers make specific decisions and behave in certain ways, what motivates them, what captures their attention, and what retains their loyalty, turning customers into fans of an organization.

Ethics in Consumer Choice Nina Langen, 2012-12-20. This dissertation elaborates differences and similarities of forms of ethical behaviour in general and analyses whether German consumers differentiate between different types of ethical behaviour in particular. The thesis is characterised by its intensive combination of theoretical and empirical research. It furthermore contributes to the literature as the method triangulation applied in the different surveys reveals previously unknown relationships between different kinds of ethical behaviour such as ethical consumption and charitable giving as well as between different forms of ethical products. Choice experiment, latent class analysis, information display matrix, and item-based attitude assessment allowed the comparison of stated and revealed preferences as well as an analysis of the relevance of ethical product features within the context of different product and process attributes. The dissertation provides insights into a research field which is becoming more and more relevant and improves the understanding of consumers' assessment and the interdependencies of the possibilities of ethical behaviour. This allows the development of recommendations for consumer policy makers, business, and NGOs concerned with the ethics of consumer choice as well as future research on ethical behaviour in general and ethical consumption in particular. Journal of Small Business and Entrepreneurship, 1996.

Experiencing new and different cultures has been part of my life The time abroad more than a third of my life has led to many interesting personal and professional experiences This has helped me deal with new and unknown situations and respect tolerance as a most important value Out of this interest I seek to understand and learn more about different cultures Eventually one realises that differences in cultures might exist but are they really as significant as generally assumed This question is of great importance for modern economy of these days In view of the modern world as a global market the question seems to be can cultural aspects be ignored To what extent can and do they influence our thoughts and habits Bollor s market study in cooperation with 6 European universities provided an opportunity to analyse to what extent consumer behaviour is dependant on cultural aspects Our comparison of European consumer preferences might help to give some attempt to whether we can assume that geographical boundaries are the only factors dividing nations within the European Union My research is guided by the very basic question Even though European countries are linked geographically and politically and seem to be moving towards a more and more homogeneous union to what extent can they be considered as one entity

The Effect of Economic, Social and Psychological Factors on Transport Behavior of Polish Citizens. A Conjoint Analysis Approach Cordula Welte-Bardtholdt,2023-03-17 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2022 in the subject Transportation Science Technology grade Summa cum laude University of Gdansk Faculty of Economics course Dissertation language English

abstract Increasing traffic is responsible for climate change and related problems such as noise and health consequences and the car is one of the most favored means of transport for individual travel Thus traffic should become more sustainable The objective of the thesis is to investigate to what extent statements made by the respondents about a hypothetical situation correspond to their actual behavior For this purpose a conjoint analysis approach will be applied The EBM model of 1995 was chosen as the theoretical basis Here the focus was put on the stages environmental influences individual differences evaluation of alternatives and on choice Socio demographic data information on current travel status live situation mental state and experienced feelings while traveling with the current transport mode and aspects of personality were collected further respondents could choose between other transport modes than the car in two hypothetical situations the non choice option was also possible A total of n 918 people participated in the web based survey which was conducted in Poland between December 2021 and March 2022 The data was analyzed by Partial Least Square Structural Equation Modeling PLS SEM using SmartPLS V 3 The results show that mental state experienced feelings while traveling by current mode transport policy instruments driver s license ownership car sharing experience and gender have a significant influence on transportation mode choice and current travel behavior Thus psychological processes are important factors to consider in sustainable transportation planning
