

BRANDS THAT MAKE THE BEST CARS

We rank automakers from best to worst on their scores and survey results.

by JEFF S. KRAFT/CR

How we made the rankings: The Best Overall ranking is based on the average of the scores for each of the 10 categories: overall, value, performance, reliability, and safety. For the Best Value ranking, we used the average of the scores for the 10 categories, excluding the overall score. For the Best Performance ranking, we used the average of the scores for the 10 categories, excluding the overall score and the reliability score. For the Best Reliability ranking, we used the average of the scores for the 10 categories, excluding the overall score, the performance score, and the safety score. For the Best Safety ranking, we used the average of the scores for the 10 categories, excluding the overall score, the performance score, the reliability score, and the value score.

and vehicle ownership of its automakers can show you if the right vehicle when making a new car purchase. These ratings are based on the average Overall Score, a combination of our most recent reliability, safety, and owner satisfaction data, and reflect the all of the models from each automaker. The top five brands this year are the same ones as 2023, with BMW leading the pack with an 87 score, followed by Subaru with an 85 score, followed by Porsche with an 84 score, followed by Honda with a 78 score, followed by Lexus with a 78 score.

and best value and why good predicted reliability. Porsche takes the third position with a score of 84. Subaru, Ford, and Cadillac moved up 10 positions this year due to their improved reliability. It's a sign that even high scoring brands can have some lower performing models, so be sure to check the ratings (see page 46) for the auto you're considering. This is especially true for bigger brands like Ford and Toyota, which have some models that performed far better than others in our tests. (If the brands CR ranked this year were recommending every model rated from worst (Jeep, Ford, Honda, Kia, Mazda, and Audi) Single pick: You can buy and feel more from those companies with confidence. (There are also brands that didn't have a single model recommended by CR, including carefully when buying one of those.) To be included in the overall ranking, CR has to have tested at least two current models from a company. We've tested only one model from Lotus, Polestar, and Ram, so they aren't included this year.
