

CWEL review

social security act (title IV-E) - federal law that provides federal funds to serve needy children and families title IV E is where most of our funding comes from

DCFS mission - protect children well being

dual mandate - we are mandated to do 2 things: protect children and support families title IV-E - receive foster care reimbursement to achieve permanent living arrangements, written case plans, periodic review of progress by an independent third party indian child welfare act ICWA - native American children who have tribal affiliation, we have to contact their tribal leaders

IEPA 4 critical elements - - decrease time kids wait to be adopted

- prevent discrimination on basis of race, color, or national origin when selecting foster/adoptive placement

- recruit diverse pool of foster/adoptive families of all races/ethnic groups

- provide stiff penalties for violation of the act adoption and safe families act (ASFA) - gotta get kids permanency as soon as possible; parents show reasonable progress in 12 months

ANCRA (placement specialty exam) - requires mandated reporters to call the hotline if they suspect abuse and neglect failure to report is// - class A misdemeanor safe haven law - infant no more than 30 days old to be able to be dropped at a law enforcement agency no questions asked permanency initiative - children's health/safety are always the paramount concern; diligent searches for family members that are missing must be done; court permanency hearing must occur for each kid no later than 12 months after they enter foster care; perm. hearing must occur no less than every 6 months as long as they are in foster care; court must select a perm goal for the child at the perm. hearing expedited termination - when there are egregious circumstances and there is no reason for the kids to be home so we terminate their parental rights (dad kills mom) consent decrees - results of a lawsuit; have to abide by them as if they are law

Thomas More Richard Marius, 1999 Over the centuries biographers of Thomas More have always praised him and made him an example for their own times He was a man for all seasons Truly he was a Renaissance man with the contradictions such praise imposes on a towering figure In Richard Marius s authoritative and engaging portrait Sir Thomas More the martyr and brilliant public figure is a lesson for our season
