ORTHODONTICS REVISION NOTES

Common rule that guides clinical orthodontic treatment

Principle

- Extraction of a displaced lower incisor may be especially useful in an older patient when buccal rotation is a well-integrated class I and there is lower incisor crowding.
- The rule is to extract the most upright and most labially displaced tooth.
- Stability is guaranteed that the remaining incisors are aligned and all spaces closed by using a fixed appliance.
- Occasionally a lower incisor is removed in treatment of a Class II Division 1 case with a large overjet, when the upper incisor is removed also to achieve a good result. This is a compromise treatment.

Learn

- Severe displacement implies the 2-4 are important and 4 is sometimes vital.
- In some cases where only one incisor is displaced, extraction of this tooth may be followed by a first premolar on the opposite side.
- These rules apply to either the upper or lower jaw.

First principle

- Consent for spontaneous relief of labial segment crowding or appliance therapy.
- Good 2-4 contact over a variety of occlusal angulations.

Second principle

- Good first space than 4.
- Unless a second premolar is very displaced its extraction must be followed by fixed appliance treatment.
- Hyperplasia (gap) lower second premolars.
- Always check on an OPG if it is to be extracted before it erupts.

Third principle

- First incisor are never extracted for orthodontic reasons.
- They are too important in the "Retention of the Incisor".
- They have multiple treatment roles.

Fourth principle

- Provision of space to avoid PARADOX – Crowded Movement of upper buccal segment.
- The soft tissue (lips) must hold (STAY).
- Do NOT underbite until you are certain the headgear is being worn and the buccal segments are moving.
