

CONFLICT RESOLUTION

THE LISTENER

You pay attention to what others are saying. This helps you understand their feelings and what they want.

Think of a time when listening helped you solve a problem.

But it's not just about what they say, it's also about how they feel. And they have their own feelings too.

Being a listener helps you find a solution that works for everyone and makes everyone feel satisfied.

scenario with two different sides.

Each side has its own reasons for what they want. You'll need to listen carefully to each other and work together to find a solution that works for both of you.

SCENARIO: CARPOOLING

You are grown-ups now! You and your carpool buddy have different ideas about what time to leave for work each day.

UNDERSTANDING

Sometimes, we have to do what we want. But when we understand others' wishes, we can find other ways to solve the problem.

Depending on why he was upset, Liam's teacher could help him solve the problem.

Scenario 1

- Ask Liam to lead a class project.
- Let him plan a class game or collaboration.
- Suggest he take a timeout if he gets angry.

HOW BIG IS THE PROBLEM?

Before you try to solve a conflict, it's important to know how big the problem really is.

Some conflicts are small and can be solved on your own. Others are bigger and need help from others.

Let's look at three types: big, medium, and small.

BIG CONFLICT	These are the biggest problems. They often involve many people and can be hard to solve on your own.
MEDIUM CONFLICT	For these problems, you might need help from a teacher or parent to solve them.
SMALL CONFLICT	These are the smallest problems. You can usually solve them on your own.

COMPRO

Sam and Lily both want to sit in the front of the car. How do you think they can solve this problem?

Alternative 1: Taking turns. Sam sits in the front one day, and Lily sits in the front the next day.

Alternative 2: Splitting the car. They agree to split the car, with Sam sitting in the front for half the time and Lily for the other half.

How do you think is compromise?

Compromising is different from collaborating. In compromising, both people give up something. In collaborating, everyone gets what they want.

COLLABORATING

This is the classic win-win solution.

Collaborating means you find a solution where everyone wins. For example, you can find a solution where you can both sit in the front while still standing firm.

Alex and Jamie both want to sit in the front of the car. How could Alex deal with this problem if he wants but also takes Jamie into account?

A PROBLEM-SOLVING CONFLICT RESOLUTION

WHAT HAPPENED?

HOW DO I FEEL? Write down the emotions you feel: angry, sad, frustrated.

WHAT DID I DO?

DID IT WORK?

DID MY SOLUTION MAKE ME FEEL BETTER?

WHAT COULD I HAVE DONE DIFFERENTLY? Write down what you wish you had done differently.
