Conquered And Seduced:

Conquered and Seduced Lyn Randal, 2014-10-15 Claiming the runaway Two years ago former gladiatrix Severina had no choice but to flee from ex soldier Livius Lucan Their relationship was fuelled by fiery passion but secrets from her past threatened his safety a risk she couldn't take Now she needs this noble Roman's help But his solution is one she's unprepared for marriage Lucan is determined to conquer and seduce this runaway woman and claim the wedding night he never had Conquered and seduced Lyn Randal [large print], 2011 Essays on Descartes Paul Hoffman, 2009-04-17

This is a collection of Paul Hoffman's wide ranging essays on Descartes composed over the past twenty five years The essays in Part I include his celebrated The Unity of Descartes Man in which he argues that Descartes accepts the Aristotelian view that soul and body are related as form to matter and that the human being is a substance a series of subsequent essays elaborating on this interpretation and defending it against objections and an essay on Descartes theory of distinction In the essays in Part II he argues that Descartes retains the Aristotelian theory of causation according to which an agent's action is the same as the passion it brings about and explains the significance of this doctrine for understanding Descartes dualism and physics In the essays in Part III he argues that Descartes accepts the Aristotelian theory of cognition according to which perception is possible because things that exist in the world are also capable of a different way of existing in the soul and he shows how this theory figures in Descartes account of misrepresentation and in the controversy over whether Descartes is a direct realist or a representationalist The essays in Part IV examine Descartes theory of the passions of the soul their definition their effect on our happiness virtue and freedom and methods of controlling them

Miscellaneous Poems. By C.K.T. , 1870 Helsinki in Early Twentieth-Century Literature Lieven Ameel, 2014-05-27 Helsinki in Early Twentieth Century Literature analyses experiences of the Finnish capital in prose fiction published in Finnish in the period 1890-1940 It examines the relationships that are formed between Helsinki and fictional characters focusing especially on the way in which urban public space is experienced Particular attention is given to the description of movement through urban space The primary material consists of a selection of more than sixty novels collections of short stories and individual short stories This study draws on two sets of theoretical frameworks on the one hand the expanding field of literary studies of the city and on the other hand concepts provided by humanistic and critical geography as well as by urban studies This study is the first monograph to examine Helsinki in literature written in Finnish It shows that rich descriptions of urban life have formed an integral part of Finnish literature from the late nineteenth century onward Around the turn of the twentieth century literary Helsinki was approached from a variety of generic and thematic perspectives which were in close dialogue with international contemporary traditions and age old images of the city and defined by events typical of Helsinki's own history Helsinki literature of the 1920s and 1930s further developed the defining traits that took form around the turn of the century adding a number of new thematic and stylistic nuances The city experience was increasingly aestheticized and internalized As the centre of the city became less prominent in literature the margins of the city and specific socially defined neighbourhoods gained in importance Many of the central characteristics of how Helsinki is experienced in the literature published during this period remain part of the ongoing discourse on literary Helsinki Helsinki as a city of leisure and light inviting dreamy wanderings the experience of a city divided along the fault lines of gender class and language the city as a disorientating and paralyzing cesspit of vice the city as an imago mundi symbolic of the body politic the city of everyday and often very mundane experiences and the city that invites a profound sense of attachment an environment onto which characters project their innermost sentiments
