

BRANDS THAT MAKE THE BEST CARS

We rank automakers from best to worst on their scores and survey results.

by JEFF S. KRAFT/CR

How we made the rankings: The Report based its automaker brand scores on four key factors: (1) our own reliability, owner satisfaction, and safety; (2) the national rating we set, achieved through more than 30 years of research; (3) the reliability ratings we based on problems reported by members of the Consumer Reports survey; and (4) a survey from J.D. Power. Brand performance problems are based on our 10-point scale and are not necessarily indicative of the actual safety or quality of a vehicle. Vehicle safety ratings are based on the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's (NHTSA) star ratings. Vehicle quality ratings are based on the J.D. Power survey.

and vehicle ownership of its automakers can show you if the right direction when making a new car purchase. These ratings are based on the average Overall Score, a combination of our most recent reliability, safety, and owner satisfaction data, and reflect the all of the models from each automaker. The top five brands this year are the same ones as 2023, with BMW leading the pack with an 87-point score, followed by Subaru, the leading manufacturer brand with 85. This year for both companies is their consistent combination of high and best owner and very good predicted reliability. Porsche takes the third position with a score of 84. Both Porsche and Cadillac moved up 10 positions this year due to their improved reliability. Keep in mind that even high scoring brands can have some lower performing models, so be sure to check the ratings (see page 46) for the auto you're considering. This is especially true for bigger brands like Ford and Toyota, which have some models that performed far better than others in our tests. (If the brands CR ranked this year were recommending every model rated from worst (BMW, Porsche, Honda, Kia, Mazda, and Audi) Single point. You can buy and test model from those companies with confidence. (There are also brands that don't have a single model recommended by CR, Canada carefully when buying one of those.) To be included in the brand rating, CR has to have tested at least two current models from a company. We've tested only one model from luxury, Polaris, and Ram, so they aren't included this year.
