vehicle will seem like the regular transaction it was always supposed to be. Additionally, you will learn about the coverage products that come along with your car. Those designed to cover the unexpected and give you peace of mind. Scratches, dents, and damage will always happen because your vehicle and others are on the go. It was designed and expected to receive damage, wear, and depreciation. You just need to be prepared for it. Next in Part Two, Lease Transfer Takeover, you will learn the perks of one of the most important components of a lease contract: the opportunity to terminate your contract by giving it away to someone else. You will learn about the process, the benefits, and the costs of doing this. Although we can all estimate how long we might need a car, life will always throw surprises at us, and our loved ones, a newborn, a new work vehicle, new routes to a new office, downsizing, or any other major life change. After operating the LeaseCosts Lease Takeover Marketplace for years, I've learned so many things that would love to share with you here from both the buyer and the seller perspective. And Part Three, Car Leasing Statistics in Canada, will give you a lot of new insights on how we Canadians consume our vehicles. You will also get a look into a deep 15-year study that involves over 23,000 vehicle leasing contracts cross-country that will help you understand things like: How much Canadians pay per month on average on a car lease. The average for each specific car make. The most popular leasing terms by manufacturer. The average down payment for Volkswagen, Audi, KIA, etc. and how many people make a down payment. How many people actually take the Wear Tear coverage, LA1, JD2, and how it can impact on future unexpected events. The kind of average payment you should expect for high-end vehicles compared to mass-market ones. How much you should offer as an incentive if you need to transfer your lease. After finishing all three parts, you will walk away with a solid understanding of how car leasing works in Canada, and I guarantee that you will feel prepared and confident when considering and signing your new car lease.
