Der Grune Max :

Filmkünstler und Filmkunst ... ,1928 Recent Additions by Classes ,1898 Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1981 Self-Translation and Power Olga Castro,Sergi Mainer,Svetlana Page,2017-08-07 This book investigates the political social cultural and economic implications of self translation in multilingual spaces in Europe Engaging with the power turn in translation studies contexts it offers innovative perspectives on the role of self translators as cultural and ideological mediators The authors explore the unequal power relations and centre periphery dichotomies of Europe s minorised languages literatures and cultures They recognise that the self translator s double affiliation as author and translator places them in a privileged position to challenge power to negotiate the experiences of the subaltern and colonised and to scrutinise conflicting minorised vs hegemonic cultural identities Three main themes are explored in relation to self translation hegemony and resistance self minorisation and self censorship and collaboration hybridisation and invisibility This edited collection will appeal to scholars and students working on translation transnational and postcolonial studies and multilingual and multicultural identities American Turner ,1915 German Images in Australian Literature from the 1940s to the 1980s Irmtraud Petersson,1990 This cross cultural study examines German Australian relations by tracing patterns of representation in Australian writing The imagological approach enables comparisons to be made among a wide range of texts and of authors as diverse as Martin Boyd Dymphna Cusack Thomas Keneally David Martin E O Schlunke Patrick White The most common German images and stereotypes found are those associated with rural environment and romantic imagination on the one hand and with savagery and barbarity represented by Nazism on the other The significance of such images often links up with Australian perception of the Old World and its cultural legacy thus being part of the process of Australian self definition and self understanding The Era Annual ,1904 The Redemption of Things Samuel Frederick,2022-01-15 Collecting is usually understood as an activity that bestows permanence unity and meaning on otherwise scattered and ephemeral objects In The Redemption of Things Samuel Frederick emphasizes that to collect things however always entails displacing immobilizing and potentially disfiguring them too He argues that the dispersal of objects seemingly antithetical to the collector s task is essential to the logic of gathering and preservation Through analyses of collecting as a dialectical process of preservation and loss The Redemption of Things illustrates this paradox by focusing on objects that challenge notions of collectability ephemera detritus and trivialities such as moss junk paper scraps dust scent and the transitory moment In meticulous close readings of works by Gotthelf Stifter Keller Rilke Glauser and Frisch and by examining an experimental film by Oskar Fischinger Frederick reveals how the difficulties posed by these fleeting fragile and forsaken objects help to reconceptualize collecting as a poetic activity that makes the world of scattered things uniquely palpable and knowable Gebrauchsgraphik ,1928 Bulletin Cincinnati (Ohio), Public Library,1879 Annual Bulletin ... ,1913 Minor Catalogues of the Public Library of the City of Boston [Fingierter Sammeltitel] , Appleton's

Annual Cyclopædia and Register of Important Events of the Year ... ,1900 Wesleyan University Bulletin ,1927 The German Mind as Reflected in Their Literature from 1870 to 1914 Fanny Johnson,1922 Anastasius Grün's Gesammelte Werke Anastasius Grün,1877 The Burgtheater and Austrian Identity Robert Pyrah,2017-12-02

The collapse of the Habsburg monarchy in 1918 galvanized discussion about national identity in the new Republic of Austria As Robert Pyrah shows in this thoroughly documented study the complex identity politics of interwar Austria were played out in the theatres of Vienna which enjoyed a cultural prominence rarely matched in other countries By 1934 productions across the city were being co opted to serve the newly patriotic cause of the Dollfuss and Schuschnigg regimes and the Burgtheater once known as the first German stage had been transformed into a national theatre for Austria Using case studies of key productions and a wealth of previously unseen archival material Pyrah sheds new light on artistic and ideological developments throughout the period including the neglected earlier years He documents previously unexplored overlaps in the cultural programmes of Left and Right and unearths evidence that key institutions were subverted by the Right well before the suspension of parliamentary rule in 1933

Intellectual Property, Human Rights and Competition Abbe Elizabeth Lockhart Brown,2012-01-01

Abbe Brown s new work provides a welcome and extremely valuable addition of the human rights dimension to the long standing conflict over essential technologies between intellectual property and competition law Steven Anderman University of Essex UK and University of Stockholm Sweden Much has been written on the flexibilities available within the intellectual property system to address development and social needs This book goes a step further it explores how greater access to essential technologies can be ensured through human rights and competition law Although the analysis is focused on UK and the European Union the book provides valuable insights for assessing the situation in other jurisdictions The author suggests an innovative approach for courts and legislators to overcome in the light of public interest considerations the limits imposed by intellectual property rights This book is a much welcomed contribution to academic and policy debates on the subject Carlos M Correa University of Buenos Aires Argentina Intellectual property interacts or clashes with human rights and competition law The refreshing bit about this book is that a detailed practical approach to the inevitable balancing act is proposed Abbe Brown explains how a human rights approach is the cornerstone of such a balancing approach and how positive results can be achieved towards unblocking essential technologies And it can be done in the existing international legal framework even if the latter could be improved Well researched challenging and interesting reading Paul Torremans University of Nottingham UK

Abbe Brown s study starts from the assumption that IP right owners particularly those of innovative technologies dispose of a disproportionate strong legal position in relation to that of competitors and customers which is detrimental to society at large Brown investigates how the power of the IP right owners can be limited by applying existing human rights law and competition law To that aim it is suggested to widen the legal landscape and to develop a more tripartite substantive approach to IP law human rights law and competition law Brown s

study offers a very welcome new contribution to the literature on the functioning of IP law by stressing the joint role which competition law and human rights law can play in this respect F Willem Grosheide Utrecht University and Attorney at law Van Doorne Amsterdam The Netherlands This detailed book explores the relationship between intellectual property competition and human rights It considers the extent to which they can and must be combined by decision makers and how this approach can foster innovation in key areas for society such as pharmaceutical drugs communications software and technology to combat climate change The author argues that these three legal fields are strongly interrelated and that they can be used to identify essential technologies She demonstrates that in some cases combining the fields can deliver new bases for wider access to be provided to technologies The solutions developed are strongly based on existing laws with a focus on the UK and the EU and the structures of existing forms of dispute resolution including the European Court of Human Rights and the dispute settlement bodies of the World Trade Organisation The final chapters also suggest opportunities for further engagement at international policy and activist level new approaches to IP and its treaties and wider adoption of the proposals This timely book will appeal to academics and practitioners in IP competition and human rights as well as innovation related industry groups and access to knowledge health and environment activists Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1970 Das Literarische Echo ,1908
