Just a Sister Away Renita J. Weems, 2025-05-01 The Essence bestselling author of Listening for God reveals the timeless connection between today's women and their biblical sisters and how to live a better life because of it

Gender, Genre, and Race in Post-Neo-Slave Narratives Dana Renee Horton, 2022-08-16 Gender Genre and Race in Post Neo Slave Narratives provides an innovative conceptual framework for describing representations of slavery in twenty first century American cultural productions Covering a broad range of narrative forms ranging from novels like The Known World to films like 12 Years a Slave and the music of Missy Elliott Dana Renee Horton engages with post neo slave narratives a genre she defines as literary and visual texts that mesh conventions of postmodernity with the neo slave narrative Focusing on the characterization of black women in these texts Horton argues that they are portrayed as commodities who commodify enslaved people a fluid and complex characterization that is a foundational aspect of postmodern identity and emphasizes how postmodern identity restructures the conception of slave owners

Black Fortunes Shomari Wills, 2018-01-30 By telling the little known stories of six pioneering African American entrepreneurs Black Fortunes makes a worthy contribution to black history to business history and to American history Margot Lee Shetterly New York Times Bestselling author of Hidden Figures Between the years of 1830 and 1927 as the last generation of blacks born into slavery was reaching maturity a small group of industrious tenacious and daring men and women broke new ground to attain the highest levels of financial success Mary Ellen Pleasant used her Gold Rush wealth to further the cause of abolitionist John Brown Robert Reed Church became the largest landowner in Tennessee Hannah Elias the mistress of a New York City millionaire used the land her lover gave her to build an empire in Harlem Orphan and self taught chemist Annie Turnbo Malone developed the first national brand of hair care products Mississippi school teacher O W Gurley developed a piece of Tulsa Oklahoma into a town for wealthy black professionals and craftsmen that would become known as the Black Wall Street Although Madam C J Walker was given the title of America's first female black millionaire she was not She was the first however to flaunt and openly claim her wealth a dangerous and revolutionary act Nearly all the unforgettable personalities in this amazing collection were often attacked demonized or swindled out of their wealth Black Fortunes illuminates as never before the birth of the black business titan      A Companion to African American

Literature Gene Andrew Jarrett, 2013-05-06 Through a series of essays that explore the forms themes genres historical contexts major authors and latest critical approaches A Companion to African American Literature presents a comprehensive chronological overview of African American literature from the eighteenth century to the modern day Examines African American literature from its earliest origins through the rise of antislavery literature in the decades leading into the Civil War to the modern development of contemporary African American cultural media literary aesthetics and political ideologies Addresses the latest critical and scholarly approaches to African American literature Features essays by leading established literary scholars as well as newer voices      Black Manhood on the Silent Screen Gerald R. Butters, 2002 In early twentieth century motion picture houses offensive stereotypes of African Americans were as predictable as they were prevalent Watermelon eating chicken thievery savages with uncontrollable appetites Sambo and Zip Coon were all representations associated with African American people Most of these caricatures were rendered by whites in blackface Few people realize that from 1915 through 1929 a number of African American film directors worked diligently to counter such racist definitions of black manhood found in films like D W Griffith s The Birth of a Nation the 1915 epic that glorified the Ku Klux Klan In the wake of the film s phenomenal success African American filmmakers sought to defend and redefine black manhood through motion pictures Gerald Butters s comprehensive study of the African American cinematic vision in silent film concentrates on works largely ignored by most contemporary film scholars African American produced and directed films and white independent productions of all black features Using these race movies to explore the construction of masculine identity and the use of race in popular culture he separates cinematic myth from historical reality the myth of the Euro American controlled cinematic portrayal of black men versus the actual black male experience Through intense archival research Butters reconstructs many lost films expanding the discussion of race and representation beyond the debate about good and bad imagery to explore the construction of masculine identity and the use of race as device in the context of Western popular culture He particularly examines the filmmaking of Oscar Micheaux the most prolific and controversial of all African American silent film directors and creator of the recently rediscovered Within Our Gates the legendary film that exposed a virtual litany of white abuses toward blacks Black Manhood on the Silent Screen is unique in that it takes contemporary and original film theory applies it to the distinctive body of African American independent films in the silent era and relates the meaning of these films to larger political social and intellectual events in American society By showing how both white and black men have defined their own sense of manhood through cinema it examines the intersection of race and gender in the movies and offers a deft interweaving of film theory American history and film history      Teaching Difficult History through Film Jeremy Stoddard, Alan S. Marcus, David Hicks, 2017-06-26 Teaching Difficult History through Film explores the potential of film to engage young people in controversial or contested histories and how they are represented ranging from gender and sexuality to colonialism and slavery Adding to the education literature of how to teach and learn difficult histories contributors apply their theoretical and pedagogical expertise and experiences to a variety of historical topics to show the ways that film can create opportunities for challenging conversations in the classroom and attempts to recognize the perspectives of historically marginalized groups Chapters focus on translating research into practice by applying theoretical frameworks such as critical race theory auto ethnography or cultural studies as well as more practical pedagogical models with film Each chapter also includes applicable pedagogical considerations such as how to help students approach difficult topics model questions or strategies for engaging students and examples from the authors own experiences in teaching with film or in leading students to develop counter narratives through filmmaking These discussions of the real considerations facing classroom teachers and professors are sure to appeal to experienced secondary teachers pre service teacher education programs graduate students and academic audiences within education history and film studies Part and chapter discussion guides full references of the films included in the book and resources for teachers are available on the book s companion website www.teachingdifficulthistory.com A Selection from the World's Greatest Short Stories Sherwin Cody,1918
