Describing Functions Pi Tesccc:

Pi David H Bailey, Professor Jonathan M Borwein, 2018-08-19 This book contains a compendium of 25 papers published since the 1970s dealing with pi and associated topics of mathematics and computer science The collection begins with a Foreword by Bruce Berndt Each contribution is preceded by a brief summary of its content as well as a short key word list indicating how the content relates to others in the collection The volume includes articles on actual computations of pi articles on mathematical questions related to pi e g Is pi normal articles presenting new and often amazing techniques for computing digits of pi e g the BBP algorithm for pi which permits one to compute an arbitrary binary digit of pi without needing to compute any of the digits that came before papers presenting important fundamental mathematical results relating to pi and papers presenting new high tech techniques for analyzing pi i e new graphical techniques that permit one to visually see if pi and other numbers are normal This volume is a companion to Pi A Source Book whose third edition released in 2004 The present collection begins with 2 papers from 1976 published by Eugene Salamin and Richard Brent which describe quadratically convergent algorithms for pi and other basic mathematical functions derived from some mathematical work of Gauss Bailey and Borwein hold that these two papers constitute the beginning of the modern era of computational mathematics This time period 1970s also corresponds with the introduction of high performance computer systems supercomputers which since that time have increased relentlessly in power by approximately a factor of 100 000 000 advancing roughly at the same rate as Moore s Law of semiconductor technology This book may be of interest to a wide range of mathematical readers some articles cover more advanced research questions suitable for active researchers in the field but several are highly accessible to undergraduate mathematics students Pi: A Source Book J.L. Berggren, Jonathan M. Borwein, Peter Borwein, 2004-06-17 This book documents the history of pi from the dawn of mathematical time to the present One of the beauties of the literature on pi is that it allows for the inclusion of very modern yet accessible mathematics The articles on pi collected herein fall into various classes First and foremost there is a selection from the mathematical and computational literature of four millennia There is also a variety of historical studies on the cultural significance of the number Additionally there is a selection of pieces that are anecdotal fanciful or simply amusing For this new edition the authors have updated the original material while adding new material of historical and cultural interest There is a substantial exposition of the recent history of the computation of digits of pi a discussion of the normality of the distribution of the digits and new translations of works by Viete and Huygen Pi and the AGM Jonathan M. Borwein, Peter B. Borwein, 1987-01-19 This book presents new research revealing the interplay between classical analysis and modern computation and complexity theory Two intimately interwoven threads run through the text the arithmetic geometric mean AGM iteration of Gauss Lagrange and Legendre and the calculation of pi Pi: A Source Book Jonathan M. Borwein, 2013-06-29 Our intention in this collection is to provide largely through original writings an extended account of pi from the dawn of mathematical time to the present The story of pi reflects the most seminal the most serious and sometimes the most whimsical aspects of mathematics A surprising amount of the most important mathematics and a significant number of the most important mathematicians have contributed to its unfolding directly or otherwise Pi is one of the few mathematical concepts whose mention evokes a response of recognition and interest in those not concerned professionally with the subject It has been a part of human culture and the educated imagination for more than twenty five hundred years The computation of pi is virtually the only topic from the most ancient stratum of mathematics that is still of serious interest to modern mathematical research To pursue this topic as it developed throughout the millennia is to follow a thread through the history of mathematics that winds through geometry analysis and special functions numerical analysis algebra and number theory It offers a subject that provides mathematicians with examples of many current mathematical techniques as well as a palpable sense of their historical development Why a Source Book Few books serve wider potential audiences than does a source book To our knowledge there is at present no easy access to the bulk of the material we have collected
