Designing For The Homeless Architecture That Works:

Designing for the Homeless Sam Davis, 2004-11-29 An eye opener The subject of homelessness has often been discussed but no one before has cut such a broad swath through the subject There is no other book that deals with the architecture of homelessness Robert Gutman author of Architectural Practice A Critical View Davis lays out a compelling case for us all especially designers to get involved in solutions for the problem of homelessness He discusses the plight of the homeless in terms that make them real and his chapter on the costs of homelessness lays out the argument for involvement in very practical terms Michael Underhill Professor School of Architecture at Arizona State University

Homelessness and the Built Environment Jill Pable, Yelena McLane, Lauren Trujillo, 2021-07-08 Winner of the 2020 IDEC award Homelessness and the Built Environment provides a practical introduction to the effective physical design of homes and other facilities that assist unhoused persons in countries identified as middle to high income It considers the supportive role that design can play for unhoused persons and other users and argues that the built environment is an equal partner alongside other therapies and programs for ending a person's state of homelessness By exploring issues trends and the unique potential of built environments this book moves the needle of what is possible to assist people experiencing trauma Examining important architectural and interior architectural design considerations in detail within emergency shelters transitional shelters permanent supportive housing day centers and multi service complexes such as space planning choices circulation and wayfinding visibility lighting and materials and finishes it provides readers with both curated conclusions from empirical knowledge and experienced designers perspectives Homelessness and the Built Environment is an imperative and singular reference for interior designers architects and building renovation sponsors design researchers and students forging new discoveries and policy makers who seek to assist communities affected by homelessness
