Geographies of Memory and Postwar Urban Regeneration in British Literature Alina Cojocaru, 2022-05-13 This book proposes a new approach to the literary representations of London by means of correlating geocriticism, spatial literary studies and memory studies in order to investigate the interplay between reality and fiction in mapping the urban imaginary. It conducts an analysis of depictions of London in British literature published between 1975 and 2005, exploring the literary representations of the real urban restructurings prompted by the rebuilding projects in war and poverty-stricken districts of London, the remapping of the metropolis by immigrants, gentrification and the displacement of communities, as well as the urban dissolution caused by terrorism. The selected works of fiction written by Peter Ackroyd, Penelope Lively, Zadie Smith, Andrea Levy, J.G. Ballard, Michael Moorcock, Doris Lessing and Ian McEwan provide a record of the city in times of reconstruction, emphasizing the structure of London as a palimpsest which becomes a central image. The book contributes to the development of the subject field by introducing a number of original concepts which connect geocriticism and memory studies.

London, Queer Spaces and Historiography in the Works of Sarah Waters and Alan Hollinghurst Júlia Braga Neves, 2022-10-07 Queer spaces are crucial for the construction of LGBTQ communities as they constitute places where queer subjects can create political, social and affective alliances. Júlia Braga Neves shows how these spaces are pivotal for the representation of queer history in the fictional works by the British authors Sarah Waters and Alan Hollinghurst, whose characters and plots are articulated through and within London's sexual geographies. Considering the intersection between gender, sexuality and class, this study engages with spatial queer feminist and Marxist theories as a means to reflect on London queer historiography and the relationship between subject and urban space.

Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First Century British Nature Writing Anneke Lubkowitz, 2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing. It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict. Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory, the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed, uncanny and socially contested. Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography's interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside. Kathleen Jamie's allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re-writing of the outdoors and John Burnside's use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfolds in these texts

Locating Classed Subjectivities Simon Lee, 2022-05-30 Locating Classed Subjectivities explores representations of social class in British fiction through the lens of spatial theory and analysis By analyzing a range of class conscious texts from the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries the collection provides an overview of the way British writers mobilized spatial aesthetics as a means to comment on the intricacies of social class In doing so the collection delineates aesthetic strategies of representation in British writing tracing the development of literary forms while considering how authors mobilized innovative spatial metaphors to better express contingent social and economic realities Ranging in coverage from early nineteenth century narratives of disease to contemporary writing on the working class millennial Locating Classed Subjectivities offers new perspectives on literary techniques and political intentions exploring the way class is parsed and critiqued through British writing across three centuries As such the project responds to Nigel Thrift and Peter Williams s claim that literary and cultural production serves as a particularly rich yet unexamined access point by which to comprehend the way space and social class intersect

Poetics of the Migrant Kevin Potter, 2023-08-01 Since the 1980s readers and scholars alike have celebrated migrant literature for not only depicting migration but for inspiring reflections on class race gender nations and mobility But beyond depicting migration is it possible for migrant literature to be a force of movement itself Poetics of the Migrant calls upon the philosophy of movement and a counter history of migration to invent a theory and method for analysing migrant literature The text uncovers patterns of movement that migrant texts enact and create in other words a movement oriented poetics Poetics of the Migrant understands movement as the defining force of human history and the migrant is the primary figure of cultural and political transformation Migrant literature makes it possible to transform how we process and interpret social history through social motion Perhaps from here we can imagine a different world one where movement and migrancy are legible and thinkable Reappraising Cult Horror Films Lee Broughton,2024-05-16 Identifies key and in some cases previously overlooked cult horror films from around the world and reappraises them by approaching and interrogating them in new ways New productions in the horror genre occupy a prominent space within the cinematic landscape of the 21st century but the genre s back catalogue of older films refuses to be consigned to the motion picture graveyard just yet Interest in older horror films remains high and an ever increasing number of these films have enjoyed an afterlife as cult movies thanks to regular film festival screenings television broadcasts and home video releases Similarly academic interest in the horror genre has remained high The frameworks applied by contributors to the collection include genre studies narrative theory socio political readings aspects of cultural studies gendered readings archival research fan culture work interviews with filmmakers aspects of film historiography spatial theory and cult film theory Covering a corpus of films that ranges from recognised cult horror classics such as The Wicker Man The Shining and Candyman to more obscure films like Daughters of Darkness The Legend of the 7 Golden Vampires Shivers Howling III The Marsupials and Inside Broughton has curated an international selection of case studies that show the diverse nature of the cult horror subgenre Be they star laden stylish violent bizarre or simply little heard of obscurities this book offers a multitude of new critical insights into a truly eclectic selection of cult horror films Freedom and the City ,2011 Contemporary Music Newsletter ,1972 Babylon and Golden City Susanne Cuevas,2008 The Political Geography of Contemporary Britain John Mohan,1989 This series of essays on the state of modern British politics examines Thatcherism and government policies in relation to many topical subjects such as trade unionism employment for women housing racism policing industrialization local government and environmental issues The Milk Reporter ,1917 The Entomologist's Record and Journal of Variation James William Tutt,2011 New Statesman Society ,1990 Reference Services Review ,1973 Comparative Economic Systems Paul R.
