Disruptions and Rhetoric in African Development Policy George Auma Kararach, 2022-05-19 The book examines the failures and some of the successes of Africa in its efforts to transform into a society where human security or development in the broadest sense is achieved It is argued the African continent had and will continue to content with disruptions or change on its path to development Development policy making in this regard is an art of setting out strategies to build resilience and take advantage of disruptions or change in whatever format political economic health diplomatic demographic or even environmental and climatic The book discusses nine major disruptions in Africa s socio economic life and the limits imposed by the rhetoric in development policy exclusion and social inequality environmental degradation and climate change natural resources and poor beneficiation trade and aid food insecurity demography and migration pandemics and disease burden conflict and criminality and technology and innovation The book is intended for intermediate students in African studies Area Studies Development Economics Development Studies Public Policy and Comparative Politics In addition will be development practitioners working in developing countries the UN system multilateral development banks donor agencies and regional economic communities in Africa

Africa in the Post-2015

Development Agenda Leo Charles Zulu, Cristina D'Alessandro, 2018-04-19 This book offers a multifaceted examination of Africa's development into the post 2015 global agenda from a geographical perspective. As a diversified and highly applied discipline, geography has a lot to offer to global debates, nuanced analysis of problems, and the search for innovative solutions to advance the African development agenda beyond 2015. The end of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) era and the launch of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in September 2015 mark an important turning point for Africa and an opportune time to examine new challenges and opportunities that it faces. The regional disparities in MDG progress affirm an important geographic tenet that the unique yet internally differentiated socio-cultural, economic, political, ecological, biophysical, and historical context give Africa distinctive challenges and opportunities that demand particular approaches to development. This edited book presents innovative contributions examining Africa's development performance in diverse sectors during the MDG era as a basis for understanding prospects for its development in the SDG era and beyond. It offers new and innovative study perspectives and methodological approaches on urban transformation, development financing, food security, climate change, gender equality, health, and regional integration among other topics and useful insights for scholars, students, and development practitioners. This book was originally published as a special issue of African Geographical Review, the journal of the American Association of Geographers Africa Specialty Group, to mark the transition from MDGs to SDGs.

Africa and the World Francis Kornegay, 2020-02-02 Africa and the World: Navigating Shifting Geopolitics is one of the first books to analyse the global geopolitical landscape from an African perspective with a view to the opportunities and challenges facing the African continent. Authors in this edited volume argue for the need to re-imagine Africa's role in the world. As a cradle of humanity, a historical fountain of profound scientific knowledge, an object of colonial conquest, and today a collective of countries seeking to pool their sovereignties in order to improve the human condition, Africa has a unique opportunity to advance its own interests. Authors reflect on all these issues; they outline how developments in the global political economy impact on the continent and inversely how Africa can develop a strategic perspective that takes into account the dynamics playing out in a fraught global terrain.

Structural Change in Africa Carlos Lopes, George Kararach, 2019-06-25 Debates on African development continue to downplay the achievement of the continent's economic achievements and the perception of a conflict-prone continent continues. Many of the policy prescriptions externally imposed on African countries have done little to transform the continent largely because they have been conceived and applied without context. Using literature from diverse origins, this book expands our knowledge about Africa and makes practical suggestions as to how successful development in a complex yet dynamic continent can be achieved. Widening the policy dialogue and providing alternative thinking on the key elements and full extent of opportunities and challenges towards achieving the socio-economic transformation of Africa, the book moves the debate from the rhetoric to reality. As a considered reflection on the Africa's transformation narrative, it outlines the practical pathways necessary for Africa's sustainable development providing policy makers and researchers with tested solutions It will be of interest to all scholars students and policy professionals working in African development public policy international political economy economic policy and politics Cities Farming for the Future International Development Research Centre (Canada),2006

Secondary Cities and Local Governance in Southern Africa Abraham R. Matamanda,James Chakwizira,Kudzai Chatiza,Verna Nel,2024-01-16 This book is the first to consider the roles challenges and governance responses of secondary cities in southern Africa to changing circumstances Among the challenges are governance under conditions of resource scarcity managing informality the effects and responses to climate change and the changing roles of the cities within the national space economy It fills the gap in the literature on secondary cities with original case studies drawn from South Africa Zimbabwe and Mozambique The authors are all African scholars working and living in the region with intimate knowledge of the settings they describe The book is critical as it includes such regional case studies of different secondary cities in Southern Africa but also because of it s multidisciplinary it contains substantive and pertinent issues such as climate change disaster management local economic development and basic services delivery It considers diverse environments yet with similar challenges that could provide useful policy and governance proposals for other cities Lagos Plan of Action and Africa's Future Economic Relations ,1984 Strategies and Policies for Local Economic Development in the New South Africa ,1995 Regional Development Policy and Practices in Africa and Asia ,2000 The Master Plan Study on Aquaculture Development in Malawi ,2005 The Feminization of Development Processes in Africa Valentine U.
