Dhaka University Question Paper 2013

Dhaka University Question Paper 2013:

Bangladesh Ali Riaz, 2016-06-08 Bangladesh is a country of paradoxes. The eighth most populous country of the world, it has attracted considerable attention from the international media and western policy makers in recent years, often for the wrong reasons: corruption, natural disasters caused by its precarious geographical location and volatile political situations with several military coups following its independence from Pakistan in 1971. Institutional corruption, growing religious intolerance and Islamist militancy have reflected the weakness of the state and undermined its capacity. Yet the country has demonstrated significant economic potential and has achieved successes in areas such as female education, population control and reductions in child mortality. Ali Riaz here examines the political processes which engendered these paradoxical tendencies, taking into account the problems of democratization and the effects this has had and will continue to have in the wider South Asian region. This comprehensive and unique overview of political and historical developments in Bangladesh since 1971 will provide essential reading for observers of Bangladesh and South Asia.

State, Market and Society in an Emerging Economy Quamrul Alam, Rizwan Khair, Asif M. Shahan, 2023-07-26 The economic and social development that Bangladesh has achieved in the past two decades has made Bangladesh a development paradox. This book tries to explain this paradox through a political economy lens. The book explains the linkages between the state, changing society and emerging private sector and examines whether the social transformation taking place in Bangladesh has the potential to live up to the expectations of a middle income country. The early part of the book unravels the myriad relations between the state, society and market to project the aspirations of a newly independent nation. It analyzes how political turmoil, militarization of politics, politicization of institutions, reforms, initiatives, industrial and social development policies and the power nexus influenced the nature of the political economy of Bangladesh. The book goes on to examine how domestic appetite for capital and raw materials, the digital revolution and the capacity of the local market to absorb expanded economic activities have created an environment that catalyzes innovation and entrepreneurship. The book also explains how the country has attempted to transform from an agrarian to a manufacturing based economy with rapid growth in the ready-made garment industry, pisciculture, pharmaceuticals and the ICT sector. Bangladesh's journey from an emerging economy towards a developed country would interest those researching on development economics and those in policy making.

Dhaka's Changing Landscape Rita Afsar, Mahabub Hossain, 2019-11-05 Between 1991 and 2010 Dhaka's population more than doubled to 15 million. Simultaneously, the city's contribution to the national economy almost trebled. Clearly, population growth was accompanied by an unmistakable trend of economic growth and a significant decline in urban poverty and income inequality. On the other hand, Dhaka's high population density exacerbated serious environmental challenges and it was soon ranked as one of the world's least livable cities. In the context of these contradictory signals of rapid urbanization, Dhaka's Changing Landscape sets to answer three most intriguing questions: Are the poorer segments of urban population which migrate with dreams for better lives benefitting from positive economic trends Are these benefits sustainable Are these benefits creating scope for this group to have a stake in the city s growing prosperity By studying 600 households and applying comparative analysis over a span of 20 years the authors examine demographic and economic trends to understand the patterns scale and complexity of urban poverty income inequality and rural urban migration Going beyond the space and poverty debate they enlighten the readers about the quality of life questions sustainability matters and gender and generational roles and relations necessary to understand qualitative transformation and migrants prospects for a better future

Sahoo,2021-03-30 This handbook offers an analysis of Asian diaspora and development and explores the role that immigrants living within diasporic and transnational communities play in the development of their host countries and their homeland Bringing together an array of interdisciplinary scholars from across the world the handbook is divided into the following sections Development Potential of Asian Diasporas Diaspora Homeland and Development Gender Generation and Identities Soft Power Mobilization and Development Media Culture and Representations Presenting cutting edge research on several dimensions of diaspora and development Routledge Handbook of Asian Diaspora and Development provides a platform for further discussion in the fields of migration studies diaspora studies transnational studies race relations ethnic studies gender studies globalization Asian studies and research methods

Parliaments in South Asia Nizam Ahmed,2020-02-05 This book explores the development decline and resurgence of parliaments in India Pakistan and Bangladesh Although the three parliaments formally have a common origin and follow almost similar rules and procedures substantial variations can be observed in their behavior By analyzing the nature of memberships processes of legislation and oversight of the executive the book assesses the impact of Indian Pakistani and Bangladeshi parliaments In addition to identifying the ways in which different institutional actors particularly the parliament and the judiciary define their roles and relationships the book investigates the role of committees and the significance and effect of female legislators While showing that the parliament in India has had a steady growth since its inception notwithstanding the allegation that it has declined in recent years the author also demonstrates the differential performance of the parliaments in Bangladesh and Pakistan In particular the parliament in Pakistan is shown to likely be able to upgrade its status from a minimal to at least a marginal legislature while the Bangladesh parliament risks becoming a minimal legislature A valuable resource to use when comparing strategies and outcomes of postcolonial developments in the operation of parliaments this book will be of interest to academics in the field of political and economic development governance and South Asian Studies

South Asia in Transition B. Chakma,2014-06-25 Combining theoretical and empirical insights this book provides an in depth analysis of South Asia s transition in the areas of democracy political economy and security since the end of the Cold War It provides a close scrutiny to the state of democracy and political economy in India Pakistan and Bangladesh

Gender Responsive Budgeting in South Asia Pranab Kumar Panday,Shuvra

Chowdhury,2021-11-08 This book analyzes the practice of local level participatory planning and budgeting and its impact on gender responsive budgeting GRB in Bangladesh The book offers a conceptual framework that brings into focus the contribution of successful participatory budgeting practice to ensure GRB the examination of whether men and women fall under existing income and expenditure patterns differently It suggests that the ideas of participatory budgeting and GRB should be evolving together to provide a concrete idea to address gender needs The book provides a theoretical explanation that contributes to the consolidation of the practice of GRB at the local government level through participatory budgeting Conceptualizing the process of participatory budgeting and GRB in the context of Bangladesh the book will be of interest to researchers in the field of Development Studies Political Science Public Administration and Gender as well as Asian Studies in particular South Asian Studies EFA 2015 National Review, Bangladesh ,2015 Review of the progress made on the Education for All program undertaken by the Bangladesh government Safeguarding Human Progress Khalid Malik,2014 This publication notes that the most effective policies for supporting human development and reducing vulnerabilities are those that incorporate principles of universalism by placing people at the centre of policy Responding to life cycle and structural vulnerabilities through social investments and policy interventions deliver long term benefits by reducing vulnerabilities at critical life phases and mitigating structural disadvantage faced by discriminated groups in society Yet the emerging challenges and risks posed by vulnerability given the backdrop of globalisation require a concerted approach and collective action that will measure up to the scale of these shared challenges In building this argument this companion volume to the 2014 Human Development Report draws on research commissioned from eminent economists demographers and social scientists Yearbook of International Organizations 2013-2014 (Volumes 1a-1b) Union Of International Associations,Union of International Associations,2013-06-21 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events The Chittagong University Journal of Social Science ,2010 Shilpakala ,2014 Catṭagrāma Bīśvabidyālaya Jārṇāla Apha la ,2016 Waterlines ,1997 Sociological Abstracts Leo P.
