The Manual is further corrected by the last TWO letters in the model designation number, i.e., B-700 in the example, and is sometimes followed by additional letters or numbers. All second models and future production will have numbers only following the basic model number. The lettering system has been discontinued. Due to varied nomenclature of engine makers, there may be a large number of models. A complete list of these models, referred to as ENGINE VARIATIONS, will be found following each Basic Parts List. Under the new system of assigning model variation numbers, the first variance over the standard engine will begin with "1000". A typical model number might be 1200-107 for example. This variation number will be found on each Basic Parts List; will tell what parts or assemblies are required for this variation. The number of parts for each variation will be found on the Basic Parts List. In the case of the engine, the parts shown there by being in a variation column following the Basic Parts List for the B-700 series, indicate that the B-700-1000 has a variation. It is not necessary to get confused and that the gear ratios in Section 12 are for the 1200 position. If an increase in gear is needed, i.e., for the gear reducer, then one goes from Section 12 (gear reducer) and look up the part under the appropriate assembly number in the case 2000.

You must also determine the basic TYPE of your engine. The TYPE is a Chrysler engine & always shown as a Six-Cyl. FIVE-Valve Cylinder and Head Block. 120000 is its max. horsepower.

There will be a separate Division in Section II for each type change of an engine which is a special variation of the horsepower of the three-horse type.

1. Two Serial Number suffixes—designated as an "Type B" unit.
2. Serial Number suffix "A"—referred to as "Type A."
3. Serial Number suffix "B"—referred to as "Type B," etc., etc.

These are the Model Types and are covered by the Ball Parts List. Whenever a part or assembly is not used on all Types, this will be noted. If no note appears, this means that the part will be found on ALL types.

SECTION 1: PRICE LIST contains descriptions of the various engine Series and up to date accessory prices will furnish the current prices for replacement engines with or without accessories. Section 2 of this section is a convenient Parts Price List. ALWAYS CHECK PART NUMBERS WITH THE PRICE LIST to make sure that this part is available on the current PRICE LIST. ALWAYS ORDER BY PART NUMBER.
