

Study Guidelines When Preparing for the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE)
And Integration Examination

Revised 06/06/2014

GENERAL PREPARATORY INSTRUCTIONS

All Clinical Mental Health Counseling students must satisfactorily pass the comprehensive examination as a requirement for graduation. The purpose of this exam is to test both the student's knowledge of the core courses and general knowledge of counseling. This exam also prepares students for state licensure by providing them with an examination that mirrors the content as well as format of the National Counselor Exam (NCE), a multiple-choice, timed exam used for licensure by many state licensure boards.

The Comprehensive examination is administered three times per year, on the third Saturday of February, July, and October. Students need to register with the Comprehensive Examination Coordinator at least four weeks prior to the date of the examination. Additionally this exam may be offered at the end of COUN 667 Intensives scheduled throughout the year. Please contact the Comprehensive Exam Coordinator to confirm the date and register. The most current information can be found online on the Comprehensive Exam webpage.

The Center for Counseling and Family Studies utilizes two separate exams to fulfill the comprehensive examination requirement. To test students' knowledge of the eight core curricular areas, students will take the 160 item Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination® (CPCE®), published by the Center for Credentialing and Education, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors, (NBCC®), for the majority of the examination. Students will also take the 20 item CCFS Integration Examination to test their knowledge of integrating faith and spirituality into counseling in an ethically competent manner.

The CPCE® covers the eight core competencies (20 items per area) of the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP®), as defined by their Standards for Preparation:

- Human Growth and Development – studies that provide an understanding of the nature and needs of individuals at all developmental levels (CMHC 502).
- Social and Cultural Foundations – studies that provide an understanding of issues and trends in a multicultural and diverse society (CMHC 504).
- Helping Relationships – studies that provide an understanding of counseling and consultation processes (CMHC 505).
- Group Work – studies that provide an understanding of group development, dynamics, counseling theories, group counseling methods and skills, and other group work approaches (CMHC 512).
- Career and Lifestyle Development – studies that provide an understanding of career development and related life factors (CMHC 522).
