Canada S Indigenous Constitution:

Canada's Indigenous Constitution John Borrows,2010-01-01 With characteristic richness and eloquence John Borrows explores legal traditions the role of governments and courts and the prospect of a multi juridical legal culture all with a view to understanding and improving legal processes in Canada He discusses the place of individuals families and communities in recovering and extending the role of Indigenous law within both Indigenous communities and Canadian society more broadly Pub desc Indigenous Difference and the Constitution of Canada Patrick Macklem,2001-01-01 An investigation of the unique constitutional relationship between Aboriginal people and the Canadian state a relationship that does not exist between Canada and other Canadians Freedom and Indigenous Constitutionalism John Borrows,2016-05-12 Indigenous traditions can be uplifting positive and liberating forces when they are connected to living systems of thought and practice Problems arise when they are treated as timeless models of unchanging truth that require unwavering deference and unquestioning obedience Freedom and Indigenous Constitutionalism celebrates the emancipatory potential of Indigenous traditions considers their value as the basis for good laws and good lives and critiques the failure of Canadian constitutional traditions to recognize their significance Demonstrating how Canada s constitutional structures marginalize Indigenous peoples ability to exercise power in the real world John Borrows uses Ojibwe law stories and principles to suggest alternative ways in which Indigenous peoples can work to enhance freedom Among the stimulating issues he approaches are the democratic potential of civil disobedience the hazards of applying originalism rather than living tree jurisprudence in the interpretation of Aboriginal and treaty rights American legislative actions that could also animate Indigenous self determination in Canada and the opportunity for Indigenous governmental action to address violence against women
