Gopal Krishan, Nina Singh, 2019-08-21 This book is a one stop comprehensive guide to geographical inquiry The volume traces the step by step account of the whys and the hows of research methodology introduces complexities of the geographical perspective selection of research topic choice of supervisor and formulation of research proposal fine tunes the sequence of data collection analysis representation and interpretation and spells out the skill of writing research with geographic flavour and reinforces concepts and ideas with examples so as not to leave any scope for ambiguity The second edition updates on the variety of emerging perspectives in geographic research use of spatial technologies in practice sampling at different spatial levels and insightful interpretation of data. Lucid, engaging and accessible, this book will be an essential companion for researchers and students of geography, social sciences and South Asian studies. Circular Economy and Sustainable Development Enterprises Jiansu Mao, Chunhui Li, Yuansheng Pei, Linyu Xu, 2018-03-13. This textbook systematically addresses why and how Circular Economy should be developed and practiced by employing a Discussion and Research (D/R) teaching method. This method allows us to show the whole process of academic research from formulating the key questions to methodology design and ultimately to conclusions and applications. In addition, the suggested class discussions and group homework provide good opportunities for participant cooperation and exchange. In this textbook, all chapters and sections are intended to answer specific scientific key or sub-key questions, while all chapters are also internally structured logically and systematically from question to final conclusion. This textbook may help to boost student performance in science and research and was selected for inclusion in the 13th Five Year planning teaching materials for regular higher education in China. Research in Medicine Juliet Usher-Smith, George Murrell, Harold Ellis, Christopher Huang, 2010-02-18. Health professionals are increasingly drawn towards research in the course of their training, often with little guidance on the skills and techniques required. This practical text provides essential advice to guide the beginner through the processes involved in selecting, organizing, funding, undertaking, evaluating and publishing a biomedical research project and completing a postgraduate qualification. Cartoon illustrations provide a wry commentary on the ups and downs of life in research. This edition contains new content on choosing supervisors, career implications, degree structures, ethical issues and time conflicts between research and service needs and is fully revised and updated to reflect changes in the structure of medical careers and degree courses and the use of computational and information technology in research presentation. An invaluable guide suitable for all stages of a medical research career, from the first stages of research through to professional supervisors, career counselors and postgraduate tutors. A Speaker's Guidebook with The Essential Guide to Rhetoric Dan O'Hair, Rob Stewart, Hannah Rubenstein, 2012-02-01. A Speaker's Guidebook with The Essential Guide to Rhetoric includes a full tabbed section that provides brief yet comprehensive coverage of rhetorical theory from the classical to the contemporary and its practical applications. CALL, Culture and the Language Curriculum Licia Calvi, Walter Geerts, 2012-12-06. A consensus seems to exist on the following: In foreign language acquisition, methodology, sound methods and efficient tools have been developed until now in order to allow the learner to master and put into practice grammar, basic vocabulary and frequent communicative rules. Within this area, Computer Assisted Language Learning (CALL) has become an indispensable partner, often leading the game. Beyond these borders, however, methodology as a whole becomes more blurred. Rules seem to vanish, variation and specialisation increase. Intuitive and ad hoc approaches seem to take the lead on formally established methods. The reasons for this are obvious: how to control the enormous, ever-changing and expanding set of data links and encyclopedic information that we associate with a richly developed human language In front of this overwhelming opponent the search for method often surrenders This is the point where CALL could offer foreign language learning the opportunity to make another jump forward Information technology is capable of handling and streamlining huge and complex amounts of information But this is also the point where language crosses the border of the purely linguistic fact and where language learning has to come to terms with what we would call cultural issues
