China In Color:

The Language of Color in China Jun Zhou, Gail Taylor, 2019-01-17 This is the first book to explore color history in Asia. Color is a natural phenomenon and a fundamental element of the universe and offers a medium to communicate with others globally. It is a language of signals such as traffic lights, signs, or symbols and an essential part of society. Color attracts people's attention and transmits important information. As such, color language denotes all of the activities of human history and has been associated with changes in society, economic development, and dynasties replacing the old with the new. The book brings together many elements of Chinese history with reference to the topic of color and has evolved from the authors' respective interests in art and design, teaching and research consultancy, and publishing. The topic will be of increasing importance in the future as a consequence of China's increasing influence in the sphere of global culture. For practitioners of art and design, the book will be a valuable resource for the general public interested in the development of Chinese aesthetics over the centuries; it will provide a new perspective complementary to existing studies about art, design, and the history of the region.
