

Board Meeting Observation Sheet

This observation sheet can be used individually or by a full board to periodically assess how effectively and efficiently meetings are being prepared and run. It is helpful to attach a copy of the board meeting agenda.

Board: _____

Meeting Date: _____ Meeting started at _____ and the public session ended at _____

Observer: _____

Scoring: Use a 3-point scale for each item with 3, the highest mark, and 1, the lowest. Use a 0 for unable to tell. Also, 3 indicates the board seems to do this routinely; 1 indicates the board rarely or never does this.

Criteria	Score	Comments
These criteria are easily observed.
01. Board members speak loudly and clearly enough so everyone present can hear them.
02. The meeting is conducted in a business-like manner and follows accepted parliamentary procedures and rules.
03. The chairman takes charge of the meeting and keeps the meeting under control.
04. Board members treat school personnel and each other politely and with respect during the meeting.
05. The appropriate school personnel are present at the meeting to supply information for agenda items.
06. The location and setting of the meeting is comfortable and conducive to getting business done with adequate room for the public and media.
07. A conscious effort is made to make the public feel welcome at board meetings, providing them with copies of the agenda, etc.
08. The policy for public participation is explained at each meeting by the board chairman and is followed to maintain order.

Community Meeting Observation Guide:

The Ethics and Politics of Community Engagement in Global Health Research Lindsey Reynolds, Salla Sariola, 2020-06-09
Drawing on a growing consensus about the importance of community representation and participation for ethical research community engagement has become a central component of scientific research policy making ethical review and technology design The diversity of actors involved in large scale global health research collaborations and the broader background conditions of global inequality and injustice that frame the field have led some researchers funders and policy makers to conclude that community engagement is nothing less than a moral imperative in global health research Rather than taking community engagement as a given the contributions in this edited volume highlight how processes of community engagement are shaped by particular local histories and social and political dynamics and by the complex social relations between different actors involved in global public health research By interrogating the everyday politics and practices of engagement across diverse contexts the book pushes conversations around engagement and participation beyond their conventional framings In doing so it raises radical questions about knowledge power expertise authority representation inclusivity and ethics and to make recommendations for more transformative inclusive and meaningful community engagement This book was originally published as a special issue of the Critical Public Health journal
