Planting New Towns in Europe in the Interwar Years Helen Meller, Helleni Porfyriou, 2016-06-22 The key theme of the papers in this book concerns the prospects of building new urban environments and creating new societies in Europe during the interwar years The contributions do not focus on the system of government communist fascist or democratic but rather on what actually got built by whom and why and how the international communication of ideas was filtered through the prism of local concerns and culture As such the volume serves to tease out connections between urban form and social aspirations and between the moral basis of social planning and how it was interpreted Did the new towns of the interwar years actually create a planned society where visions met realities aided by the design of new urban forms This is one of the principal questions investigated by the contributors here in all the different political contexts of their chosen new towns

Women and Architectural History Dana Arnold, 2024-07-01 In this book prominent architectural historians who happen to be women reflect on their practice and the intervention this has made in the discipline Of particular concern are the ways in which feminine subjectivities have been embodied in the discourses of architectural history Each of the chapters examines the author's own position and the disruptive presence of women as both subject and object in the historiography of a specific field of enquiry The aim is not to replace male lives with female lives or to write women into the masculinist narratives of architectural history Instead this book aims to broaden the discourses of architectural history to explore how the potentially unnatural rule of women subverts canonical norms through the empowerment of otherness rather than a process of perceived emasculation The essays examine the historiographic and socio cultural implications of the role of women in the narratives and writing of architectural history with particular reference to Western traditions of scholarship on the period 1600 1950 Rather than subscribing to a single position individual voices critically engage with past and present canonical histories disclosing assumptions biases and absences in the architectural historiography of the West This book is a crucial reflection upon historiographical practice exploring potential openings that may contribute further transformation of the theory and methods of architectural history Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial NoDerivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 International license

Biography in Theory Wilhelm Hemecker, Edward Saunders, 2017-08-07 This textbook is an anthology of significant theoretical discussions of biography as a genre and as a literary historical practice Covering the 18th to the 21st centuries the reader includes programmatic texts by authors such as Herder Carlyle Dilthey Proust Freud Kracauer Woolf and Bourdieu Each text is accompanied by a commentary placing its contribution in critical context Ideal for use in undergraduate seminars this reader may also be of interest for academic researchers in the areas of literary studies and history aiming to get an overview of historical questions in biographical theory This revised and updated English language edition also includes new translations of texts by J. G. Herder and Stefan Zweig as well as an introductory discussion on the possibility of a theory of biography Note Due to copyright reasons the chapter Sade Fourier Loyola Extract 1971 pp 175 177 by Roland Barthes could not be included in the ebook

"Biography, Identity and the Modern Interior " Penny Sparke, 2017-07-05 Through a series of case studies from the mid eighteenth century to the start of the twenty first this collection of essays considers the historical insights that ethno auto biographical investigations into the lives of individuals groups and interiors can offer design and architectural historians Established scholars and emerging researchers shed light on the methodological issues that arise from the use of these sources to explore the history of the interior as a site in which everyday life is experienced and performed and the ways in which contemporary architects and interior designers draw on personal and collective histories in their practice Historians and theorists working within a range of disciplinary contexts and historiographical traditions are turning to biography as means of exploring and accounting for social cultural and material change and this volume reflects that turn representing the fields of architectural and design history social history literary history creative writing and design practice Topics include masters and servants in eighteenth century English kitchens the lost interiors of Oscar Wilde's House Beautiful Elsa Schiaparelli's Surrealist spaces Jean Genet outlaws and the interiors of marginality and architect Lina Bo Bardi's Glass House S Paulo Brazil

Architectural Agents Annabel Jane Wharton, 2015-02-15 Buildings are not benign rather they commonly manipulate and abuse their human users Architectural Agents makes the case that buildings act in the world independently of their makers patrons owners or occupants And often they act badly Treating buildings as bodies Annabel Jane Wharton writes biographies of symptomatic structures in order to diagnose their pathologies The violence of some sites is rooted in historical trauma the unhealthy spatial behaviors of other spaces stem from political and economic ruthlessness The places examined range from the Cloisters Museum in New York City and the Palestine Archaeological Museum renamed the Rockefeller Museum in Jerusalem to the grand Hostal de los Reyes Católicos in Santiago de Compostela Spain and Las Vegas casino resorts Recognizing that a study of pathological spaces would not be complete without an investigation of digital structures Wharton integrates into her argument an original consideration of the powerful architectures of video games and immersive worlds Her work mounts a persuasive critique of popular phenomenological treatments of architecture Architectural Agents advances an alternative theorization of buildings agency one rooted in buildings essential materiality and historical formation as the basis for her significant intervention in current debates over the boundaries separating humans animals and machines No more giants Jessica Kelly,2023-01-24

Architecture is more than buildings and architects It also involves photographers writers advertisers and broadcasters as well as the people who finance and live in the buildings Using the career of the critic J M Richards as a lens this book takes a new perspective on modern architecture Richards served as editor of The Architectural Review from 1937 to 1971 during which time he consistently argued that modernism was integrally linked to vernacular architecture not through style but through the principle of being an anonymous expression of a time and public spirit Exploring the continuities in Richards's ideas throughout his career disrupts the existing canon of architectural history which has focused on abrupt changes linked to individual pioneers encouraging us to think again about who is studied in architectural history and how they are researched The Standard American Encyclopedia of Arts, Sciences, History, Biography, Geography, Statistics, and General Knowledge John Clark Ridpath,1898 Postcards David Prochaska,Jordana Mendelson,2010 Examines postcards as images that are carriers of text and textual correspondence that circulate images across boundaries of class gender nationality and race Discusses issues concerning the concrete practices of production consumption collection and appropriation The National Cyclopaedia of American Biography ,1927 The Auto-biography of an Octogenarian Architect George Ledwell Taylor,1870 The Auto-biography of an Octogenarian Architect, Being: a Record of His Studies at Home and Abroad, During 65 Years, Comprising Among the Subjects George Ledwell Taylor,1870
