INTRODUCTION

The Infinity System consists of several intelligent communicating components which include the Infinity Control unit (See Section), multiple speed furnace or air handler, 2-stage hot or hot and latent (Packaged Platform, which continuously communicates with each other via a low-voltage communication called the J5000 bus. Commands, operating conditions, and other data are passed continuously between components over the J5000 bus. The result is a new level of comfort, efficiency, and economy.

All Infinity furnaces or air units are variable speed and multi-stage for maximum efficiency, efficiency, and comfort. They support extended temperature, humidification, dehumidification, and air quality control. Either an Infinity communication, or a standard 24VAC connected outdoor unit may be used.

When using conventional outdoor units, the Infinity furnace or air unit provides the 24 volt signals needed to control them. Also, the Infinity Wireless Network Module (IRWNTM) allows connections of a Carrier Infinity or Infinity outdoor unit with a separate wall control.

All system components are controlled through the wall mounted Infinity Control, which replaces the conventional thermostat and provides the homeowner with a single wall control for all features of the system.
