A Blacklist Education Jane S. Smith, 2025-07-15 In A Blacklist Education a mysterious file of family papers triggers a journey through the dark days of political purges in the 1950s Jane S Smith tells the story of the anticommunist witch hunt that sent shockwaves through New York City's public schools as more than a thousand teachers were targeted by Board of Education investigators Her father was one of them a fact she learned only long after his death Beginning in 1949 amid widespread panic about supposed communist subversion investigators questioned teachers in their homes accosted them in their classrooms and ordered them to report to individual hearings The interrogations were not published filmed open to the public or reported in the news By 1956 hundreds of New York City teachers had been fired often because of uncorroborated reports from paid informers or anonymous accusers Most of the targeted teachers resigned or retired without any public process their names recorded only in municipal files and their futures never known Their absence became the invisible outline of an educational void a narrowing of thought that pervaded classrooms for decades In this highly personal story family lore and childhood memory lead to restricted archives forgotten inquisitions and an eerily contemporary campaign to control who could teach and what was acceptable for students to learn Censorship Bulletin ,1956 Freedom-to-read Bulletin ,1955 Newsletter on Intellectual Freedom ,1952 Moving on George Moss,1994 The World Who's who of Women ,1982 The Oxford Handbook of Film and Media Studies Robert Kolker,2008-09-11 This handbook examines film and new media in the light of their convergence It draws on leading scholars in the field to discuss traditional areas of history and theory of film and digital media Its focus however is on the cycle of technologically driven arts Film was born of a number of experiments in reproducing motion all of which culminated in the nineteenth century projection of short films The creation of digital media resulted from experiments in alternative forms of representation in the early 1960s John Whitney began creating avant garde films from digital graphics around 1960 and some of his ideas and methods were incorporated by Stanley Kubrick in 2001 A Space Odyssey By the early 1990s commercial filmmakers began to employ digital effects in their work By the late nineties digital arts had come fully into their own both in the form of stand alone or interactive artworks and films created with and for the computer At the same time digital effects had completely overtaken optical printing and matte painting in film From special effects to creating realistic backgrounds and crowds the digital is infiltrating all aspects of filmmaking The infiltration is about to become a takeover as celluloid is replaced by high definition digital recording and projection processes Many aspects of film will change as this latest convergence takes place Already cultural response to film has changed as viewers begin to teach themselves about film through supplementary material on DVDs and to make their own films on home computers But this handbook is not a technical history or manual Quite the contrary it is a scholarly work discussing the aesthetics economics and cultural results of these changes and convergences The book balances traditional scholarship and analysis with essays addressing technological change and the concurrent changes in cultural responses to
