Black Viper's Windows 8 Service Configurations

Add comments

Introduction

To continue my fine tradition of optimizing MS's latest OS, I have here my findings to date. This information is based upon the Desktop versions of Windows 8. The tablet (x86 and ARM) versions (Surface (Pro) (1/2/3) will take time updating as I do not have access to any of those devices and in all honesty, I cannot afford to purchase two tablets "just for testing" purposes or to find out it is not even possible to adjust on tablet versions. If you desire to see these configurations listed in the tables, Donate and the money generated will go directly to purchasing these items.

Before adjusting your service settings, ensure that your system has already installed all updates by "checking now" for any available updates via Windows Update. At this time, it is best for you to ensure that all services are set to the default values before updating your system.

Breakdown of all changes to date: Windows 8 Information Changelog.

I cannot possibly test all configurations extensively (meaning, each persons specific computer needs), but what I can offer is what "works for me" and the obstacles I have came across so you do not have to discover them on your own.
