This book helps facilities understand how to comply with the Standards for Blood Banks and Transfusion Services requirement stating that blood banks and transfusion services must have a quality system that is defined, documented, implemented and maintained. Answers to commonly asked questions about a quality manual, templates for policies for each of the AABB Quality System Essentials (QSEs), a list of processes that support the AABB QSEs, and comparisons of currently published quality system requirements are included in this manual to assist your facility in defining and documenting your quality system. The guidance provided helps blood banks and transfusion services develop their facility's quality manual in a manner that will meet the requirements set in the Standards. Included with the book is a CD containing templates and checklists that can be customized, providing facilities with material to submit as part of their AABB Accreditation.

Quality Assurance in Blood Banking and Its Clinical Impact C.Th. Smit Sibinga, P.C. Das, H.F. Taswell, 2012-12-06

THE PHILOSOPHY OF QUALITY ASSURANCE IN THE BLOOD BANK H.F. Taswell

One year before this symposium, Cees Smit Sibinga and I began to discuss an approach to quality assurance in the blood bank which we felt would be both important and practical and could serve as the basis for the choice of subjects to be presented in the symposium. As an introduction to this book, I would like to outline our approach, the subjects chosen, and the rationale behind our choice.

What is the fundamental purpose of a blood bank and transfusion service? Simply stated, the purpose of a blood bank and transfusion service and of a quality assurance program in blood banking is for the one to provide and the other to assure safe and effective transfusion therapy. This objective is in contrast to that of other clinical laboratories. The objective in a clinical chemistry laboratory is to produce accurate test results which will be meaningful to the clinician taking care of his patient. In most clinical laboratories, therefore, the goals of a quality assurance program are largely quantitative, that is, to assure accurate numerical test results. In contrast, in the blood bank, the goals of quality assurance are primarily qualitative, that is, to assure safe and effective transfusion. As a result, two somewhat different approaches to quality assurance are necessary.

Quality Assurance in the Pathology Laboratory Maciej J. Bogusz, 2011-02-22

Quality refers to the amount of the unpriced attributes contained in each unit of the priced attribute. Leffler, 1982. Quality is neither mind nor matter but a third entity independent of the two, even though Quality cannot be defined; you know what it is. Pirsig, 2000. The continuous formulation of good practices and procedures across fields reflects it.
