A. Completion

Use this completion exercise to check your understanding of the concepts and terms that are introduced in this chapter. Each blank can be completed with a term, short phrase, or number.

Atoms of each element are 1 from the atoms of all other elements. Dalton theorized that atoms are indivisible, but the discovery of 2 particles changed this theory. We now know that atoms are made up of electrons, which have a 3 charge; 4, which have a positive charge; and 5, which are neutral. The latter two particles are found in the 6 of the atom.

It was 7 who discovered the nucleus of the atom. The nucleus has a 8 charge and it occupies a very small volume of the atom. In contrast, the negatively charged 9 occupy most of the volume of the atom.

The number of 10 in the nucleus of the atom is the atomic 11 of that element. Because atoms are electrically neutral, the number of protons and 12 in an atom are equal. The sum of the 13 and neutrons is the mass number. Atoms of the same element are identical in most respects, but they can differ in the number of 14 in the nucleus. Atoms that have the same number of protons but different mass numbers are called 15.

The 16 of an element is the weighted average of the masses of the isotopes of that element. Two isotopes of sulfur are $^{32}_{16}\text{S}$ and $^{34}_{16}\text{S}$. An atom of the sulfur-32 isotope contains 17 protons and 18 neutrons. The sulfur-34 isotope has 19 protons and 20 neutrons.

This International Adaptation offers new and updated content with improved presentation of all course material. It builds on the strengths of previous editions, including clear explanations and step-by-step problem solving. The material emphasizes real-world applications of chemistry as the authors develop the principles that form the foundation for the further study of chemistry. There is new and expanded coverage of polarizing power and polarizability, Fajans' rules, collision number, and mean free path, abnormal molecular masses, and van't Hoff factor and applications of radioactivity.
