Chemistry and Industry Review, 1957      English Mechanic and Mirror of Science, 1902      Integrated Life-Cycle and Risk Assessment for Industrial Processes and Products Guido Sonnemann, Michael Tsang, Marta Schuhmacher, 2018-10-10

Life cycle assessment is a methodology used to evaluate the environmental impacts of a product process or service during its life cycle and risk assessment is a tool to evaluate potential hazards to human health and the environment introduced by pollutant emissions. The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals call for, among other objectives, responsible consumption and production by decoupling environmental resource use and environmental impacts from economic growth and human well-being. Life cycle assessment and risk assessment are both analytical system approaches that allow scientists and other decision makers to address these issues and objectives according to the current understanding of environmental mechanisms. This book is the first attempt to illustrate the existing interfaces between life cycle assessment and risk assessment and to indicate options for further integration of both tools. The second edition focuses on sustainability. Considers new developments in life cycle assessment and environmental risk assessment over the last ten years at the international level. Introduces broader concepts and discussions on integrative versus the complementary use of life cycle and risk assessments. Extends the scope of integrated life cycle and risk assessments to critical raw materials. Includes more case studies and discusses engineered nanomaterials. Featuring contributions from leading experts. Integrated Life Cycle and Risk Assessment for Industrial Processes and Products is a great reference for graduate students and professionals in environmental management and intends to catalyze communication between life cycle assessment and risk assessment experts and scientists in academia, industry and governmental agencies. The practical format of the book, illustrated with flowcharts, examples, exercises and concrete applications, makes it a useful manual for analyzing situations and making decisions.

Frontiers of Sulfur Metabolism in Plant Growth, Development, and Stress Response Stanislav Kopriva, Dibyendu Talukdar, Hideki Takahashi, Rüdiger Hell, Agnieszka Sirko, Stanislaus F. D' Souza, Tulika Talukdar, 2016-09-07

Growing plants have a constitutive demand for sulfur to synthesize proteins, sulfolipids and other essential sulfur-containing molecules for growth and development. The uptake and subsequent distribution of sulfate is regulated in response to demand and environmental cues. The importance of sulfate for plant growth and vigor and hence crop yield and nutritional quality for human and animal diets has been clearly recognized. The acquisition of sulfur by plants, however, has become an increasingly important concern for agriculture due to the decreasing S emissions from industrial sources and the consequent limitation of inputs from atmospheric deposition. Molecular characterization involving transcriptomics, proteomics and metabolomics in Arabidopsis thaliana as well as in major crops revealed that sulfate uptake, distribution and assimilation are finely regulated depending on sulfur status and demand and that these regulatory networks are integrated with cell cycle, photosynthesis, carbohydrate metabolism, hormonal signaling, uptake and assimilation of other nutrients etc to enable plant growth development and reproduction even under different biotic and abiotic stresses This knowledge can be used to underpin approaches to enhance plant growth and nutritional quality of major food crops around the world Although considerable progress has been made regarding the central role of sulfur metabolism in plant growth development and stress response several frontiers need to be explored to reveal the mechanisms of the cross talk between sulfur metabolism and these processes In this research topic the knowledge on plant sulfur metabolism is reviewed and updated Focus is put not only on molecular mechanisms of control of sulfur metabolism but also on its integration with other vital metabolic events The topic covers 4 major areas of sulfur research sulfate uptake assimilation and metabolism regulation and role in stress response We hope that the topic will promote interaction between researchers with different expertise and thus contribute to a more integrative approach to study sulfur metabolism in plants

Intellectual Property Issues in Nanotechnology Chetan Keswani,2020-09-08 Intellectual Property Issues in Nanotechnology focuses on the integrated approach for sustained innovation in various areas of nanotechnology The theme of this book draws to a great extent on the industrial and socio legal implications of intellectual property rights for nanotechnology based advances The book takes a comprehensive look not only at the role of intellectual property rights in omics based research but also at the ethical and intellectual standards and how these can be developed for sustained innovation This book attempts to collate and organize information on current attitudes and policies in several emerging areas of nanotechnology Adopting a unique approach this book integrates science and business for an inside view of the industry Peering behind the scenes it provides a thorough analysis of the foundations of the present day industry for students and professionals alike

Functional Foods and Biotechnology Kalidas Shetty,Dipayan Sarkar,2020-04-13 The second book of the Food Biotechnology series Functional Foods and Biotechnology Biotransformation and Analysis of Functional Foods and Ingredients highlights two important and interrelated themes biotransformation innovations and novel bio based analytical tools for understanding and advancing functional foods and food ingredients for health focused food and nutritional security solutions The first section of this book provides novel examples of innovative biotransformation strategies based on ecological biochemical and metabolic rationale to target the improvement of human health relevant benefits of functional foods and food ingredients The second section of the book focuses on novel host response based analytical tools and screening strategies to investigate and validate the human health and food safety relevant benefits of functional foods and food ingredients Food biotechnology experts from around the world have contributed to this book to advance knowledge on bio based innovations to improve wider health focused applications of functional food and food ingredients especially targeting non communicable chronic disease NCD and food safety relevant solution strategies Key Features Provides system science based food biotechnology innovations to design and advance functional foods and food ingredients for solutions to emerging global food and nutritional insecurity coupled public health challenges Discusses biotransformation innovations to improve human health relevant nutritional qualities of functional foods and food ingredients Includes novel host response based food analytical models to optimize and improve wider health focused application of functional foods and food ingredients The overarching theme of this second book is to advance the knowledge on metabolically driven food system innovations that can be targeted to enhance human health and food safety relevant nutritional qualities and antimicrobial properties of functional food and food ingredients The examples of biotransformation innovations and food analytical models provide critical insights on current advances in food biotechnology to target design and improve functional food and food ingredients with specific human health benefits Such improved understanding will help to design more ecologically and metabolically relevant functional food and food ingredients across diverse global communities The thematic structure of this second book is built from the related initial book which is also available in the Food Biotechnology Series Functional Foods and Biotechnology Sources of Functional Food and Ingredients edited by Kalidas Shetty and Dipayan Sarkar ISBN 9780367435226 For a complete list of books in this series please visit our website at <https://www.crcpress.com/Food-Biotechnology-Series/book-series/CRCFOOBIOTECH>

Current Perspectives on the Value, Teaching, Learning, and Assessment of Design in STEM Education Jeffrey Buckley, Eva Hartell, Nicolaas Blom, 2023-08-25 Design is a central activity within Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics STEM education Within enacted practice design can feature within intended learning outcomes for example in learning to design and it can feature within pedagogical methodologies for example by learning through design Often holding differing disciplinary interpretations such as design as cyclical problem solving iterative design conceptual design or design with or without make understanding the educational merits of the ill defined and open nature of authentic designerly activity is paramount This Research Topic sets out to gain a more nuanced understanding of the value and roles of design within STEM educational contexts This Research Topic focuses on design within STEM educational contexts particularly in terms of teaching learning and assessment The aim is to contribute to the evidential basis which can be used to guide the incorporation of design into educational practice The topic has two central research objectives The first is to generate evidence regarding what design is in STEM education For example is the ability to design a singular or manifold construct Is the capacity to design or are factors of this ability both learnable and teachable How transferable is designerly knowledge between contexts How do different disciplinary contexts influence the interpretation of design The second is to further our understanding of how best to incorporate design within STEM education contexts For example how much emphasis should be placed on learning to or through design in school How should design be assessed within formal education Where and when is design best incorporated into education In posing these questions the goal of this research topic is to provide scholarly discourse which supports critical reflection and the challenging of assumptions regarding design in education
