

Code of Hammurabi

What would your group do?

DIRECTIONS:

Below you will find some questions that have troubled mankind since the beginning of time. Each situation requires a consequence, but what should it be and how harsh? As a group, you will discuss each question. Even though you may disagree with each other, come up with a group consensus on consequences for each situation.

1. A house has fallen on and killed its owner because of bad nails and boards.

What should be done to the carpenter who built the house?
Punishment:

2. A man accuses another man of murder, but he cannot prove it.

What should be done to the man who accuses another man of murder?
Punishment:

3. A wife has been gossiping about her husband. She has not been doing work around the house, let's her mother take care of the kids, and spends all of the money.

What should be done to a woman who ignores her husband and family?
Punishment:

Teaching in a Globally-Connected World Ervin F. Sparapani, Pamela L. Ross McClain, 2016-07-29 This book examines the current social political economic and religious climate of the world makes projections for the future and then makes suggestions for what the contributors believe educators need to think about in order to adequately prepare young people to successfully navigate that future We live in a globally connected world and young people as they move into the future need to be prepared to live in that future Schools and teachers tend to focus on the present which is okay however schools and teachers must decide what is important to know in the present in order for young people to be successful in the future The responsibility of education today must be to prepare learners to live in an unknown future that is global and not be so focused on an uncertain present
