The Big Sort Bill Bishop, Robert G. Cushing, 2009 America may be more diverse than ever coast to coast but the places where we live are becoming increasingly crowded with people who live think and vote as we do We've built a country where we can all choose the neighborhood and church and news show most compatible with our lifestyle and beliefs And we are living with the consequences of this way of life segregation Our country has become so polarized so ideologically inbred that people don't know and can't understand those who live just a few miles away The reason for this situation and the dire implications for our country is the subject of this groundbreaking work From publisher description

Why Groups Go to Extremes Cass R. Sunstein,2008 How does group behavior drive extremism and challenge democratic values Cass R Sunstein argues that the key to preventing the spread of extremist views is not to suppress deliberation among the like minded such groups productively challenge conventional thinking and majority opinion Instead policymakers should develop institutions to ensure that like minded groups encounter a diversity of opinions within civil society The goal Sunstein contends must be to create opportunities for civil deliberation that expose like minded group members to opposing views while exposing society at large to the views of such groups
